Discover arts, humanities and social sciences at Deakin University

As a future student we know that you want to choose a course you will enjoy and have an interest in, but also one that will lead you to a rewarding and fulfilling career.

The workforce of the 21st century is global. Arts, humanities and social sciences disciplines provide the understanding and cultural sensitivity necessary to be competitive and relevant, both nationally and internationally, and provide a foundation for lifelong, independent learning.

Arts, humanities and social sciences degrees provide marketable and transferable skills in research, analysis, lateral thinking, writing and communication. By studying one of these degrees you will also develop knowledge specific to the disciplines of your choice. Your studies will teach you to be a good team member, manage your time effectively, help you to make decisions and finesse your presentation skills, while also providing you with the skills and knowledge to think logically and with accuracy.

Deakin offers many programs in arts, humanities and social sciences across disciplines that are vital to making Australia an equitable, humane and innovative society. Our courses provide extensive hands-on experience, suitably preparing you for a career in these industries.

At Deakin you have several different options. You can tailor your study mode to fit in with your work and other commitments, and study overseas and gain credit towards your degree. You will finish your course knowing you have the knowledge to succeed in the career of your choice. You also have the option to go on to further study or research.

This guide will tell you about the courses we offer in arts, humanities and social sciences, their key features and the career opportunities you can expect from completing a degree at Deakin.

Choosing a university course is an important decision – and we are here to help. We encourage you to gather as much information as possible to help you make an informed decision about which course is best for you.

If you need more information, please contact us on 1300 DEGREE (1300 334 733), email enquire@deakin.edu.au or visit deakin.edu.au.

We look forward to seeing you at Deakin!

The Deakin team
Using this booklet

This booklet provides you with detailed information about Deakin’s undergraduate courses in arts, humanities and social sciences (for domestic students), including study areas, career opportunities, course overviews and course structures. It is designed to be read in conjunction with the 2013 Undergraduate Course Guide, which gives an overview of all of Deakin's undergraduate courses, study options, support services and campuses.

Deakin University also produces course guides specifically for international students. To request a copy phone Deakin International on 03 9244 5095.
Courses aimed at getting you a career, not just a job

Deakin's arts, humanities and social sciences courses have been developed in close consultation with industry, and include a blend of theory and practice. Through these professional links we ensure that our courses are relevant, practical and deliver the skills in demand in the workplace, resulting in excellent job and career opportunities for Deakin graduates. A recent study by the Graduate Careers Council of Australia noted that 'within four months of completing arts/humanities and related courses, more than 75 per cent of graduates are in full-time employment and a further 20 per cent are undertaking further study'.

A Deakin arts degree will provide you with skills for a wide range of careers including international relations, journalism, advertising, media, photography, multimedia, publishing, public relations, marketing, personnel and industrial relations, government, policy development, research, business, finance, community services, ethnic affairs, psychology, social work, education, policing, criminology, performing arts and visual arts.

Industry experience

Deakin prepares you for the real world by providing opportunities to gain valuable experience and develop workplace skills. Many Deakin courses are taught by industry professionals and include industry and professional experience placements, internships and overseas study programs. For instance, second-year journalism students in Warrnambool have had the opportunity to write and select stories for a monthly newspaper. Students daily, to write and select stories for a monthly newspaper. For instance, second-year journalism students in Warrnambool have had the opportunity to write and select stories for a monthly newspaper.

In-demand skills

A Deakin arts degree offers courses across the humanities and social sciences, communication and media, and the disciplines of the creative arts. Courses are organised under areas that are relevant to the workplace and include communication and media, international studies, performing and creative arts, and society and politics.

By choosing courses across these disciplines, your degree will give you marketable and transferable skills in research, analysis, lateral thinking, writing and communication. You can also combine your arts degree with another degree (such as law or teaching) which is an excellent means of adding to your mix of employable skills.

Prized facilities

Deakin's arts, humanities and social sciences students have access to an outstanding $18.4 million facility, located at the Melbourne Burwood Campus. This facility provides you with the opportunity to work in an array of industry-standard production and performance studios. The complex spans four levels, with dedicated studios for dance, drama, visual arts, television and sound. There are also screening rooms, mixing facilities, digital video editing and animation suites, computer labs, photographic darkrooms and digital imaging studios. Collaborative spaces for hybrid art forms are also housed here. The cutting-edge technology used to make Avatar, The Lord of the Rings and Happy Feet is also available to students at Deakin through the Deakin Motion.Lab – one of the most technologically-advanced motion capture facilities in Australia. The studio provides opportunities for study in motion capture, and develops opportunities for interdisciplinary and collaborative research projects involving researchers and artists from creative and scientific disciplines.

Scholarships

Deakin University offers scholarships for academic excellence, access and equity, accommodation and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders, ensuring higher education is accessible to all members of the community.

For more information on scholarships, please visit deakin.edu.au/scholarships.

Flexibility

Deakin offers courses in arts, humanities and social sciences at the Melbourne Burwood Campus, Geelong Waurn Ponds Campus, Geelong Waterfront Campus, Warrnambool Campus and off campus anywhere in Australia or the world.

The Faculty of Arts and Education has a long-standing reputation for excellence in distance education which is now enhanced by online delivery.

Deakin’s trimester system and deferment option enhance our flexible approach to education, ensuring your study fits in with your work and lifestyle commitments.

For more information, please visit deakin.edu.au/online-offcampus.

Vibrant research culture

The Faculty of Arts and Education promotes pure and applied research across all its disciplines. You will engage with academic staff whose research continually informs the teaching and learning environment.

Our researchers are internationally renowned for their research and hold key roles in national and international associations and on editorial boards of journals. Our research centres include clusters of researchers in cultural heritage, citizenship and globalisation, literature and text, educational futures and creative arts.

Multidisciplinary learning

Deakin encourages ‘convergence learning’ across the range of programs offered. For example, as a dance and drama student you will collaborate with film and computer animation students to create truly unique performances. The unique and broad mix of disciplines offered by the Faculty will make your studies at Deakin intellectually stimulating and relevant to the workforce.

Lecturers with industry knowledge

Deakin’s lecturers are active within their profession, which means you’ll be taught by specialists who know, understand and have connections within industry.

Major study areas

Animation

By completing the animation major sequence, you will learn about the principles of graphic and animation practice and how to develop a moving image. Digital animation production and publication options that include web, CD and DVD publication possibilities will also be explored.

Anthropology

Anthropology is the study of humanity in the broadest sense. Anthropology at Deakin focuses on the ways human society creates its communities in diverse cultural settings. Studies in anthropology prepare you to understand and work with people in diverse and international settings. Topics studied include poverty and development, crime and violence, belief systems, health and illness and human ecology.

Arabic

Australia’s trade with the Middle East has more than doubled in the past decade, making it an increasingly important region with broad strategic, economic, religious and cultural influence. Studies in Arabic will help you develop communication skills in modern standard Arabic, with language fluency further enhanced through an understanding of Middle Eastern history, culture and society. In-country language programs are available to students undertaking a major sequence in Arabic.

Australian studies

A major sequence in Australian studies provides opportunities to examine major debates in Australian society and history. At each level, you are encouraged to explore a range of sources, from popular culture to policy statements. Australian studies aims to develop skills in recognising the impact of the past on the present and in evaluating media coverage of current political debates, such as those about Indigenous issues. Third-year students have the opportunity to further develop their skills by undertaking an internship.

Chinese

Mandarin Chinese is one of the world’s most important languages. It is the official language of the People’s Republic of China, Taiwan and Singapore and is widely used in community groups throughout South-East Asia, Hong Kong, North America and Australia. It is one of the five official languages of the United Nations. The Chinese major sequence develops communication skills in Chinese, with language fluency further enhanced through an understanding of Chinese culture, history and society. In-country language programs are available to students undertaking a major sequence in Chinese.

Criminology

Community services and police forces everywhere want well qualified staff. Deakin provides its criminology students with a solid practical understanding of policing, criminal justice, security and social process issues, as well as skills in research and analysis to help deal with increasingly complex work.

Dance

Receive contemporary dance training, access to guest practitioners, the skills to choreograph your own work, and the chance to develop as a collaborative artist. Deakin is the only place where collaborative work in dance/video, physical theatre and online computer technology is a core component of the course. There is also a focus on skills in oral and written communication, personal and group management, reflection and decision-making. Final-year students are able to participate in performing arts (dance) internships.

Film and digital media

Develop creative and critical thinking while gaining a practical and theoretical grounding in the production and application of film, video, television, animation and photography. Focusing on the development of the creative and analytic skills required to successfully apply technique in professional and artistic practices, you will learn through theoretical and practical projects, such as recording, filming, direction and post-production techniques. Collaborative skills are developed through a study of team management, narrative, representation, editing and audiences, as well as the relationship between the actor, director, producer and exhibitor. You will be exposed to diverse histories of the media and the critical and theoretical ways in which these media can be analysed and received.

Film studies

Develop creative and critical thinking while providing a practical and theoretical grounding in the production and application of film, video and television.

Graphic design

This field includes drawing, animation, interactive design, and photomedia, with an emphasis on collaboration and media production. The focus shifts to professional practice in the final year and you have the opportunity to undertake an internship.

Health promotion

A major sequence in health promotion, offered by the Faculty of Health, may be undertaken as part of your Bachelor of Arts degree. See the 2013 Undergraduate Health Career Booklet for more information.

History

You can explore the nature of the modern world – the forces and great events of the 19th and 20th centuries, and ways historians continue to interpret them. Themes covered include war and peace; modernisation and social change; colonialism, nationalism and internationalism; gender in history; the Holocaust; and sport. Third-year students have the opportunity to undertake an internship, and may apply for the US Congress Internship Program.

1. This is offered as a full degree program.
2. This is offered as a major sequence within a full degree program.
3. Extra requirements: admission to this specialist sequence is by workshop/audition. International and interstate applicants may apply to audition by video, refer to deakin.edu.au for more information.
4. Only available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of Film and Digital Media.
5. This subject area is only available in the Bachelor of Arts (Media and Communication) and the Bachelor of Creative Arts courses at the Melbourne Burwood Campus.

Major study areas

Indonesian

Indonesian language studies develop communication skills in Bahasa Indonesia, as well as an understanding of Indonesian culture, history and society. With more than 220 million speakers of Bahasa Indonesia, and Indonesia being Australia’s closest Asian neighbour, the region is increasingly important to Australia economically, politically and culturally. In-country language programs are available to students undertaking a major sequence in Indonesian.

International business

International business studies, offered by the Faculty of Business and Law, develop your skills in analysing international markets. Studies in this area will also enhance the development of your personal skills and attitudes which will help you to successfully engage in international business. Arts students can study the international business major sequence as part of their degree. See the 2013 Undergraduate Business Career Booklet for more information.

International relations

Studies in international relations will provide you with a better understanding of conflict and cooperation, and war and peace, in contemporary international politics. You will examine particular issues in global politics: the nature of power and security, globalisation and global governance, human rights and global justice, the politics of the Asian region and Australia’s place in the world.

International studies

Develop a systematic understanding of the international forces shaping government, business and community life in contemporary Australia and the world.

International trade and economic policy

International trade studies, offered by the Faculty of Business and Law, provide an understanding of trade’s economic basis and the institutions and market structure underlying global commerce. Arts students can study the international trade and economic policy major sequence as part of their degree. See the 2013 Undergraduate Business Career Booklet for more information.

Journalism

This long-established program at Deakin offers the skills and knowledge needed to become a qualified journalist in broadcast and print media. You will study mass media, and ethical and legal issues, and you will gain research skills and learn the methods and techniques of specialist writing for major daily newspapers and mainstream magazines, radio and television.

Language and culture studies

This major sequence will give you the opportunity to acquire not only linguistic skills in Arabic, Chinese or Indonesian but also essential cultural, historical and social perspectives.

Literary studies

Explore the rich array of literature ranging from classical Greek drama and Shakespearean plays, to children’s literature or recent world fiction and poetry. Insights from anthropology, philosophy, psychology and history form part of this process. There are also many opportunities for your own creative writing and critical analysis.

Media and communication

This is an area of rapid and continuous technological, political, economic and social change. Much of the recent explosion in the stock of human knowledge is linked with developments in media and communication. This course of study enables you to graduate with a unique ‘multiskilled’ qualification appropriate for many careers and job markets.

Middle East studies

A major sequence in Middle East studies will provide a comprehensive understanding of the events and issues shaping the region. There will be emphasis on both historical and contemporary issues relevant to the analysis of the Middle East as a regional system, as well as its place in the international system. Importance will be placed on the changing role of the US in the Middle East since the end of the Cold War and its push to reshape the region’s political landscape according to American national interests. Several of the endemic conflict situations that exist in the Middle East will be examined throughout the sequence, including the War on Terror; the invasion and occupation of Iraq; the Israel-Palestine impasse; the 2006 Israel-Lebanon crisis; Iran’s nuclear ambitions; and the role of ‘rogue states’.

Philosophy

A distinctive feature of the philosophy major sequence is its focus on Asian philosophy, psychoanalysis and philosophy as practiced in continental Europe. In individual units you will cover questions dealing with the nature of human existence; value, belief and purpose; and knowledge and belief.

Photography

Learn the basic techniques and practices of photography, using analogue and digital technologies, then progress to a range of professional analogue and digital photographic formats, and darkroom and studio environments. You are strongly encouraged to experiment, research and develop your own conceptual and aesthetic sensibilities. The work undertaken at this level is applicable to exhibition, installation, multimedia, and collaborative productions and provides a strong basis for postgraduate studies and professional practice. The photography major sequence is developing innovative projects that use the internet to capture images of photography students from around the world, and encourages students to participate in experimental photography.

Check out our Undergraduate eBrochure, available from deakin.edu.au/ebrochure/undergrad, the Apple App Store and Google play.
Politics and policy studies
Explore our role as citizens in the Australian community and the nature of diverse ideologies. The course explores economic, social, health, environmental, and media policy along with politics in India, Europe, the USA, China, Indonesia and the Middle East. Third-year students have the opportunity to further develop their skills by undertaking an internship.

Professional and creative writing
Gain expertise, practical experience and develop creative skills. In all units, the emphasis is on publication or the achievement of professional standards. Initially, you undertake various forms of constructive, descriptive and narrative writing, progressing to editing, non-fiction and fiction writing, script writing and poetry writing.

Public relations
Public relations involves the management of communication between people, agencies and the public. You will study areas such as crisis and issues management, advertising, organisational public relations and public relations campaigns, and develop the necessary skills for effective public relations.

Social and political thought
These studies comprise a selection of units in politics, sociology, international relations, cultural studies, philosophy, history and communication. The social and political thought major sequence will provide you with a broad range of knowledge in a variety of topics.

Sociology
Sociology is the study of the processes that create, maintain and change social groups. It explores ways of thinking about personal and public issues in modern social life and how to link them together through the study of society and social relations. Third-year students have the opportunity to further develop their skills by undertaking an internship.

Visual arts
Gain qualifications, skills and knowledge for professional practice in visual arts. Develop skills for a specialised industry vocation or for a broader role in the fields of culture and the arts. The course combines contemporary theory with specialised studio practice incorporating digital technologies. Final-year students are able to participate in visual arts internships.

Visual communication design
This program offers you a range of skills in the graphic arts incorporating knowledge in illustration and composition with an in-depth understanding of new computer technology in graphic design.

1 This is offered as a full degree program.
2 This is offered as a major sequence within a full degree program.
^ Professional and creative writing is only available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of Arts (Professional and Creative Writing).
* You will be required to undertake one unit in off-campus or online mode.
@ The first two years are available at the Warrnambool Campus – you then have the option of transferring to the Geelong Waurn Ponds Campus or completing the remaining units off campus.
◊ A full major sequence in Arabic or Chinese is not available at this campus.
One of the main advantages of a Deakin Bachelor of Arts degree is its flexibility. This allows you to keep your career options open and design your course around your interests and for maximum employability. All arts major sequences are taught as a combination of practical and theoretical learning with many areas of study offering work placements. One-third of the course may be taken from outside the Faculty of Arts and Education and you may take single, double, or even triple majors, providing numerous course combinations.

An honours year is available upon completion of this degree.

Career opportunities

An arts degree provides skills for a wide range of careers. Graduates may find careers in international relations, journalism, advertising, media, photography, multimedia, publishing, public relations, marketing, personnel and industrial relations, government, policy development, research, business, finance, community services, ethnic affairs, social work, education, policing, and performing and visual arts.

Course structure

You must complete 24 credit points of study, including at least one arts major sequence of 8 credit points offered by the campus at which you are enrolled.

You may also undertake a major sequence from any Faculty in the University. Visit for more information.

NOTE: Bachelor of Arts course internship units are normally undertaken in third year (or equivalent) and are subject to completion of specified prerequisite units and special application requirements. Interested students should contact Arts and Education Student Support and Enrolment Enquiries on their campus for more information.

STUDENT SNAPSHOT

Joy Bullock
Bachelor of Arts (Media and Communication), major sequences in journalism and public relations
Melbourne Burwood Campus

‘After researching the course structure, I was thrilled with the extent of the subjects — you gain a well rounded knowledge for the area of study. Your tutors and lecturers are more than happy to spend the time with you to ensure you get the marks you deserve, and the opportunities are extensive and readily available to those who wish to take them up.

One of my second year subjects involved working with an actual organisation and analysing their PR strategies. It gives a great insight into the “real world” of PR, and not only do you get this experience, but you make valuable contacts for after you’ve completed your degree.’

Non-Year 12 requirements
VTAC Pi form.

Deakin's public relations course will expose you to a range of models, skills and techniques necessary for the management of public relations in a wide variety of private and public organisations. The course also examines communication research techniques, organisational planning, problem analysis, strategy development for effective communication within and between organisations and their associates; the counselling of management on trends in issues affecting communication policy, and the production of messages, their transmission and the evaluation of their effectiveness.

The course has a strong industry work placement component, enabling you to gain valuable skills and experience within a public relations organisation in Australia.

An honours year is available upon completion of this degree.

Professional recognition
This course is accredited by the Public Relations Institute of Australia (PRIA), granting graduates automatic eligibility for membership. You will have the opportunity to establish links with professionals in the industry through the PRIA Young Communicators committee.

Career opportunities
Promising career opportunities exist for public relations professionals in industry and commerce, government, community and educational institutions, hospitals, health and welfare organisations, special interest groups, cultural organisations, consumer affairs and public relations consultancies.

‘The great thing about the public relations (PR) degree at Deakin is that an internship is incorporated into the structure of the course. When I started doing industry-based work it became so evident how relevant the course was.

I spent a summer working at the Australian Open’s media department before working part time with international media and PR company Crocmedia, and later with the AFL.

On completion of my degree I was given a part-time opportunity in the Nine Network’s publicity department, and in January 2011 accepted a full-time role of publicity assistant with Network Ten.

I’ve since been promoted and am now working as the National Publicist on Australia’s longest running drama, Neighbours. As part of my role I’m responsible for coordinating all media commitments for cast including interviews, photo shoots, radio schedules, previews and TV guide reviews.’

STUDENT SNAPSHOT
Joel Cooper
Bachelor of Creative Arts (Dance)
Melbourne Burwood Campus

‘I chose to study at Deakin because it has a strong commitment to the creative arts. The course is about helping its students become unique and diverse artists, as opposed to trying to shape us into a specific mould or style.

My lecturers have challenged my perceptions of dance and drama which has helped me create work that is completely new, fresh and non-conventional.

The composition element of the course is incredible, and we get time each week to explore new choreographic ideas which increase our scope as dancers and choreographers.’

This course will enable you to develop a systematic understanding of the international forces shaping government, business and community life in contemporary Australia and the world. An important component of the course is a genuine international study experience and the opportunity to gain cross-cultural experience through studying in Australia and taking part in study and/or internships in another country.

The course offers an Asia-Pacific view on international relations, security and culture studies. You can choose to specialise in language studies, international relations or international politics.

Career opportunities

This course equips you with the skills and experience relevant to a wide range of positions in the public sector, including communications, defence, diplomacy, education, finance, immigration, businesses with an international orientation, trade and aid, and non-government organisations (NGOs) with regional, national and global links.

Course structure

You must complete 24 credit points of study, including four core units; an approved international study experience; and either a major sequence in international relations and a sub-major selected from the list below, or a sub-major in international relations and a major sequence selected from the list below.

Core units

Melbourne Burwood Campus
Now: Project Officer, Indigenous Family Violence Secretariat, Department of Planning and Community Development

‘The internship that was offered as a part of my degree was the reason I chose to undertake international studies at Deakin. During my course I completed an eight-week internship with an NGO in Pokhara, Nepal. My internship involved working in the child protection sector and this experience helped me secure a job with Aboriginal Affairs Victoria. I am now working on a ten-year strategy to decrease Indigenous family violence in Victoria – this strategy is a partnership between the government and the Aboriginal community.’

To graduate from the Associate Degree of Arts, Business and Sciences, you must complete a minimum of 16 credit points, comprising core units and elective units. If you are studying through a partner TAFE these credit points can also include credits gained through subjects studied as part of your TAFE diploma course.

The core units will focus on the knowledge and skills you need to be a successful university student. They will provide you with an introduction to studying at university from the perspective of three different disciplines or subjects, and ensure that you become a more self-directed learner. They will also provide support for your study in other subject areas, particularly through the development of academic writing, critical thinking and information technology skills.

In addition to the core units, you will select four electives in your first year and eight in your second year, from units offered by the Faculties of Arts and Education, Business and Law, Science and Technology, and Health. Major sequences in arts, business, education, health and science are available.

You will be guided with your subject selection to ensure you choose units that will provide the maximum credit when using the associate degree as a pathway to a bachelor’s degree or to optimise employment opportunities.

Core units – for the course offered at the Warrnambool and Geelong Waurn Ponds Campuses

Level 1

- EAD101 Learning for a Knowledge Society
- EAD102 E-Literacy for Contemporary Learning
- EAD104 Work and the Sustainable Society (2 credit points)
  plus four elective units from the list below

Level 2

Select eight first or second year level units of a target bachelor’s degree.

Elective units

You may choose from a range of units offered at first and second level from the Warrnambool Campus, Geelong Waurn Ponds Campus (or off campus) as listed below, or the Work Placement unit which is recommended for those intending to finish at the end of level 2.

- ACV101 Studio Art: Painting A
- ACV102 Studio Art: Painting B

Year 12 prerequisites: VCE units 3 and 4 – a study of at least 30 in English (ESL) or 25 in any other English.

Non-Year 12 requirements: ATAR, GPA. Applicants who wish to undertake the Diploma of Language concurrently with another degree, must apply through VTAC for a place in the degree and, once enrolled, subsequently apply to the Faculty for the Diploma of Language (phone 03 9244 3843 or 03 9244 3910).

The Diploma of Language is a three-year, part-time course that can be studied alongside your undergraduate degree, commencing in the first or second year of study. This will add an extra six months or year to your studies, if you have already completed a university degree then you can enrol in the Diploma of Language alongside your postgraduate course, or as a stand-alone qualification.

The course can be taken in Arabic, Chinese (Mandarin) or Indonesian and caters to people with different levels of experience.

By enrolling in this course, you will be offered the chance to go overseas and study the language in the country where it is spoken, and gain credit towards your diploma.

Career opportunities

By obtaining a language qualification you will improve your employment opportunities locally and overseas.

Study Arabic and you may be able to work in the Arab Gulf States, the Middle East or North Africa. Study Chinese (Mandarin) to improve your opportunities to work in China, Taiwan and Hong Kong, or study Indonesian and you may work in Malaysia or Indonesia.

Course structure

You must complete 8 credit points of study from your chosen language major sequence (Arabic, Chinese or Indonesian). Refer to the Bachelor of Arts course entry on page 8 for major sequence structures.

Year 12 prerequisites: VCE units 3 and 4 – a study score of at least 30 in English (ESL) or 25 in any other English.

Non-Year 12 requirements: VTAC Pi form, academic results and GPA.

This combined course enables you to undertake studies in arts and commerce and to combine major sequences such as politics and policy studies with economics, finance with journalism, or public relations with marketing to create a unique qualification.

Professional recognition

The Bachelor of Commerce is the recommended pathway to qualify for membership of professional organisations. The course can lead to accreditation with many professional bodies, such as the Certified Practicing Accountant (CPA) Program of CPA Australia, entry into the CA program of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia (ICAA) the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA), the Institute of Public Accountants Professional Accounting Program, the Australian Computer Society (ACS), the Economics Society of Australia and the Australian Marketing Institute, providing you meet the specified requirements within the course.

Career opportunities

A combined course such as the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Commerce offers you the chance to broaden your career opportunities after graduation. The types of opportunities available will depend on the major sequences taken within the course from a range of areas that include accountancy, advertising, economics, film studies, politics and media.

‘I have always had an interest in international relations, politics, and travel. With my courses I have been able to combine all three of my passions. The knowledge and understanding of the world around us, coupled with an international experience, makes the Bachelor of International Studies a truly exciting course.

I was lucky enough to be able to complete an In-Country Language Program in East Java, Indonesia at the end of my first year at Deakin. The ability to study a language whilst also immersed in that language and culture improved my language skills far quicker than just being in an Australian classroom.

I am hoping to work in the public sector in a role with the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. I believe that my course at Deakin has provided me with the knowledge to be able to work effectively in a government position in this field.’

You are exempt from sitting the DULSAT/ALSET if you:
» are a current Year 12 student; or
» have completed Year 12 studies in 2009, 2010 or 2011 and have not undertaken any tertiary studies (including TAFE studies, diploma or above) in the interim; or » sat the DULSAT/ALSET in 2009, 2010 or 2011 and intend to use the result from that year; or
» are currently enrolled or were enrolled in a Bachelor of Laws in 2010, 2011 or 2012 and have completed the equivalent of one full-time year at an Australian university (including at least two (LLB) law units), Bachelor of Laws/combined course or the Juris Doctor (no other law course is eligible under this exemption clause); or
» have successfully completed an Australian postgraduate qualification in law in the last 10 years (three out of four units must be law units).

Combining an arts degree with a law degree enhances your understanding of the context in which the law operates. In this combined course you can choose to study areas such as history, sociology, philosophy, politics or literature in addition to law studies.

Professional recognition
Deakin's law studies satisfy the academic requirements for admission to practise law in Victoria.

Career opportunities
A law degree, especially when combined with another degree such as arts, is a qualification that offers diverse career opportunities. As an alternative to practising as a barrister or solicitor, you may enter many areas of work including business and management roles in a wide range of organisations, government services, and industrial relations. You may find a role in research, public administration, diplomatic service, the media, legal aid, law reform or teaching either in schools or universities.

Work-Integrated Learning
To satisfy the law component of this course, you are required to complete the prescribed professional experience and four Practical Legal Skills units to be eligible to graduate.

Professional experience
The practical experience requirements will provide you with an opportunity to enrich your legal education and theoretical knowledge and assist in preparing you for employment in the industry. Your degree is enhanced by the requirement to complete 30 days work placement in a legal environment to gain experience in how the law operates in practice, and to develop professional networks.

Practical Legal Skills
The Practical Legal Skills (PLS) program is unique to Deakin and designed to give you experience in a variety of different dispute resolution methods. The PLS program is a valuable way of developing research and critical thinking skills and the ability to present arguments orally and in writing. Mediation, Arbitration and Witness Examination are all embedded parts of the program that give you the opportunity to develop presentation skills and experience presenting in the court room.

Law Clinic
As part of this course, Deakin also offers Law Clinic, a clinical skills unit which involves you working at a community legal centre under the supervision of a legal practitioner. This unit not only gives you credit towards your degree, it also enhances your overall learning experience, providing you with a unique insight into the community legal centre environment.

The Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Management is a flexible combined course that provides the opportunity to pursue a complementary area of study such as journalism, public relations or sociology along with studies in management. The Bachelor of Arts is a highly flexible degree allowing you to concentrate on the areas that most interest you. The Bachelor of Management enables you to learn core management skills such as critical thinking, interpreting data, communication, leadership and teamwork.

Career opportunities
As a graduate of this combined course, you will possess some of the most important skills a student can gain at university – becoming expert at managing and effectively communicating knowledge and information. You will be well placed to enter a variety of employment fields combining a broad range of specialised skills with the general skills employers want. The specialist major sequences in the management degree can lead to careers in virtually every area of business and government in Australia and internationally. Broad career paths include becoming a systems professional, economist, financial planner, human resources manager, social and economic policy developer, international trade officer and marketing assistant/manager.

Course structure
You must complete 32 credit points of study – 16 credit points of units from the Bachelor of Management and 16 credit points of units from the Bachelor of Arts, including a major sequence.

The 16 credit points from the Bachelor of Management must be Business and Law course-grouped units, including a core business management stream made up of 8 credit points. To complete the 16 Business and Law course-grouped units, you may choose to complete an 8-credit-point general studies stream from a specified list or a major sequence.

Bachelor of Arts major sequences

Future

This combined course enables you to pursue studies in a variety of contemporary subjects such as the body, the environment, science policy and practice, and others. You may combine major sequences such as public relations/chemistry, philosophy/mathematics, sociology/biology or environmental science/journalism.

Career opportunities

This combined course offers you the chance to broaden your career opportunities after graduation. The types of opportunities available will depend on the major sequences taken within the course. This course allows you to explore the relationships between various areas of study, combining them in innovative ways to prepare yourself for a career in areas like policy development and implementation, human services, and the various science fields.

Work-Integrated Learning

As part of the Bachelor of Science component of this course you are required to complete Professional Practice. This will allow you to gain valuable work experience, giving you the opportunity to apply and consolidate knowledge gained in your course, experience workplace culture and workplace practices, explore career options and to develop a professional network.

Course structure

You must complete 32 credit points of study – 16 credit points from the Bachelor of Arts and 16 credit points from the Bachelor of Science, including a major sequence from each degree.

Bachelor of Arts major sequences

Refer to the Bachelor of Arts (A300) course entry on page 8 for details of major sequences and units available.

At Deakin we offer a number of combined courses that enable you to obtain two highly-regarded professional qualifications in a shorter timeframe than it would take to complete the courses separately – thereby saving time and money and broadening your skills.

Year 12 prerequisites: VCE units 3 and 4 – a study score of at least 30 in English (ESL) or 25 in any other English.
Non-Year 12 requirements: VTAC Pi form, academic results and GPA.

This specialist degree will provide you with the opportunity to combine complementary major sequences in international studies and commerce. The focus is on an international orientation and you will be expected to make a commitment to an internship with an overseas organisation, or a period of study at an overseas university; or to participate in an in-country language program.

This course will develop your understanding of the international forces shaping government, business and community life in contemporary Australia and give you a grounding in business disciplines.

Career opportunities
A combined course such as the Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Commerce offers you the chance to broaden your career opportunities after graduation, particularly from an international perspective. The types of opportunities available will depend on the major sequences taken within the course, and can prepare you for roles such as human resources manager, policy adviser, security and foreign relations analyst, international development worker, international trade officer, marketing assistant/manager, professional accountant or IT and systems professional.

Course structure
You must complete 32 credit points of study – 16 credit points from the Bachelor of International Studies and 16 credit points from Bachelor of Commerce, including at least one major sequence. Of the 16 credit points from the Bachelor of International Studies, you must complete four core units; an approved international study experience; and either a major sequence in international relations and a sub-major selected from a specified list, or a sub-major in international relations and a major sequence selected from a specified list.

Bachelor of International Studies major sequences and units
Refer to the Bachelor of International Studies (A326) course entry on page 22 for major sequences and list of available units.

Bachelor of Commerce major sequences and units
Refer to the course entry for the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Commerce (D313) on page 24 for major sequences and list of available units for the Bachelor of Commerce.

³ The off-campus mode offering of this course is subject to negotiation with the Course Director. Please contact the Faculty of Arts and Education Student Support office on your campus for further details.

Year 12 prerequisites: VCE units 3 and 4 – a study score of at least 35 in English (ESL) or 30 in any other English.
Non-Year 12 requirements: See Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws, on page 25.

There has been a pronounced internationalisation of the practice of law in the past decade. This course offers an international edge, with students committing to studying at an overseas university or taking up an internship with an overseas organisation.

You will develop an understanding of international forces shaping government, business and community life in Australia; learn how to analyse and interpret these forces; develop cross-cultural competencies through an internationally oriented curriculum; participate in an international study experience; and learn the principles of the internationalisation of the law.

Professional recognition
Deakin's law studies satisfy the academic requirements for admission to practise law in Victoria.

Career opportunities
A law degree, especially when combined with another degree, such as international studies, is a qualification that offers diverse career opportunities, particularly from an international perspective. As an alternative to practising as a barrister or solicitor, you may enter many areas of work including business and management roles in a wide range of organisations, government services, and industrial relations. You may find a role in research, public administration, policy analysis, diplomatic service, the media, legal aid, law reform or teaching either in schools or universities.

Work-Integrated Learning
Please refer to the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (D312) course entry on page 25 for Work-Integrated Learning requirements.

Course structure
You must complete 40 credit points of study – 24 credit points from the Faculty of Business and Law and 16 credit points from the Faculty of Arts and Education. You must complete four core units; an approved international study experience; and either a major sequence in international relations and a sub-major selected from the list below; or a sub-major in international relations and a major sequence selected from the specified list.

Within the 24 credit points required in the Bachelor of Laws, 20 credit points are compulsory and 4 credit points are taken as elective Law units. In addition, you will be required to complete the prescribed Practical Legal Skills program and professional experience.

Bachelor of Laws units
Refer to the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (D312) course entry on page 25 for Bachelor of Laws units.

Bachelor of International Studies major sequences and units
Refer to the Bachelor of International Studies (A326) course entry on page 22 for major sequences and list of available units.

Year 12 prerequisites
VCE units 1 and 2 – two units (any study combination) from general mathematics or mathematical methods (CAS) or VCE units 3 and 4 – mathematics (any). VCE units 3 and 4 – a study score of at least 30 in English (ESL) or 25 in any other English.

Non-Year 12 requirements
VTAC Pi form. STAT Multiple Choice test may be required.

This degree gives you a joint qualification in both secondary teaching and arts, combining teaching studies with fields such as dance, drama, English, history, humanities, linguistics, literary studies, LOTE (Arabic, Mandarin Chinese and Indonesian), mathematics, media studies, music, social education, TESOL and visual arts.

Professional recognition
Successful completion of this course will meet the registration requirements for the Victorian Institute of Teaching, and other state teacher registration boards in Australia.

Career opportunities
As a graduate you will be eligible for employment as a secondary teacher in Australia and overseas. You will be able to teach in secondary schools from junior secondary to VCE levels, as well as taking up positions in community and youth performance companies, TAFE and adult community educational institutions, private academies and agencies, community arts offices, government departments and private industries and services.

As a graduate of the Bachelor of Arts component of this course, you may also find employment in fields such as media and communication, photography, politics and policy studies, history, languages and visual arts.

Work-Integrated Learning
You are required to complete a minimum of 80 days supervised school experience over the duration of the course, providing invaluable hands-on experience in a classroom setting.

Work placement requirements
The Working with Children Act 2005 (Vic.) requires a person who engages in child-related work, as defined in the Act, to obtain an assessment notice under the Act, known as a Working with Children Check (WWCC). The Act is administered by the Department of Justice: justice.vic.gov.au. School experience placements in schools in the course of a university degree are ‘child-related work’. Under the Working with Children Act 2005 (Vic.), administered by the Department of Justice, a student teacher must obtain a WWCC before commencing school experience placements in a school. Should a student fail to obtain a WWCC, practical training in a school will not be provided, resulting in the student’s inability to complete the degree.

Course structure
You must complete 32 credit points of study – 16 credit points from the Bachelor of Teaching (Secondary) and 16 credit points from the Bachelor of Arts, including a major sequence.

Level 1
EPP101 Teacher–Learner Identity
EPP102 Learning–Teaching Communities

The indicative first year fee is an approximate indication of the cost of this course in the first year of full-time study for a Commonwealth Supported Place. We can’t specify the exact figure, because fees are charged per unit, not per course, so the actual fees may vary depending on what units you choose to study.

The fees quoted in this booklet are for Australian students in 2012, and may change for 2013 and later years. You can find more information about fees on our website at deakin.edu.au. For information on fees for international students, please visit deakin.edu.au/international.

How to apply
Applying to study at Deakin University is easy. Whether you are a current Year 12 student, TAFE graduate, mature-age student, non-school leaver, or International student studying VCE in Australia, you can apply to study a Deakin undergraduate course through the Victorian Tertiary Admissions Centre (VTAC) (unless stated otherwise in the admission guidelines).

When you are applying for a course, make sure you check all of the entry requirements carefully. Most courses have prerequisites and some have additional requirements that you will need to complete to be eligible for selection into that course. For prerequisite and extra requirement information, please visit the VTAC website www.vtac.edu.au.

For more information on how to apply, including special consideration and deferment, check out our Undergraduate eBrochure at deakin.edu.au/ebook or visit deakin.edu.au/future-students/applications-enrolments.

For the latest information about new courses at Deakin University, please visit deakin.edu.au.
Pathway programs provide alternative entry options which take into consideration previous qualifications or your time in the workforce. Deakin has pathway options for a range of applicants including current Year 12 students, International Baccalaureate (IB) students and non-school leavers. Examples for arts, humanities and social sciences students include:

TAFE pathways

If you complete a diploma or advanced diploma at TAFE in a field similar to the Deakin course of your choice, you can then apply for the Deakin course and you may receive credit for your TAFE qualification. In most cases, this will reduce the number of units you need to complete in order to obtain your Deakin qualification. Plus, upon graduation, you’ll have not one, but two qualifications.

Deakin has formal pathway programs and special credit arrangements with its partner TAFEs (Box Hill Institute in Melbourne, South West TAFE in Warrnambool and The Gordon in Geelong). However, all TAFE qualifications are considered for application to Deakin.

If you have completed a diploma or advanced diploma, you may be eligible for up to 12 credit points towards a related Deakin degree. The assessment of credit is based on a number of factors and is determined on an individual basis. To find out what credit you are entitled to, please visit deakin.edu.au/courses/credit.

Melbourne Institute of Business and Technology

Deakin University and the Melbourne Institute of Business and Technology (MIBT) have been in partnership for more than 14 years. MIBT can provide an excellent pathway to Deakin for students who do not meet the admission requirements for Deakin University courses. MIBT is located at Deakin’s Melbourne Burwood Campus and Geelong Waurn Ponds Campus, allowing you the opportunity to gain access to Deakin’s facilities and services and get involved in uni life.

MIBT may provide a direct pathway to second-year study at Deakin in media and communication (conditions apply). MIBT diplomas are equivalent to the first year of a Deakin University undergraduate degree. On successful completion of a diploma and meeting University academic entrance criteria, you may be eligible for entry to the second year of the relevant Deakin University undergraduate degree.

Deakin’s Associate Degree of Arts, Business and Sciences

The Associate Degree of Arts, Business and Sciences (Deakin at Your Doorstep), is a two-year, full-time (or part-time equivalent), 16-credit-point program specifically designed for students who would benefit from a supported entry to tertiary study.

The associate degree course structure provides flexible pathways into tertiary education, and can be used as a guaranteed pathway into a range of Deakin degrees at the Warrnambool Campus, Geelong Waterfront Campus, Geelong Waurn Ponds Campus or off campus. The degree may also be taken as a stand-alone, two-year exit qualification.

Students studying the associate degree at one of our partner TAFE campuses – Advance in Bairnsdale, Chisholm in Dandenong and Rosebud, Sunraysia in Swan Hill, GOTAFE in Wangaratta and South West TAFE in Portland – will study the course concurrently with a diploma qualification.

For more application information, please visit deakin.edu.au/doorstep.

Choice of campus

One of the great things about Deakin is that we have four campuses throughout Victoria. Many of our courses are offered at more than one campus and the ATAR required for each campus often differs but the same high-quality degree is delivered no matter which campus you study at. This provides you with more entry options and enables you to transfer your studies from one campus to another.

Single unit study (non-award)

You may wish to undertake a single unit of study at Deakin (without being enrolled or accepted into a course). These units are subject to fees and do not lead to a degree but may be credited towards a degree if you succeed in gaining entry to a course at a later stage.

For more information, please visit deakin.edu.au/future-students/applications-enrolments/applications/single-subject.

Honours

If you value passion, intellectual challenge, independent thinking, a pathway to research degrees, better career opportunities and a collegial year among high achievers at uni, an honours degree in international relations, politics, or philosophy at Deakin may be the right choice for you.

Other areas of study available include dance, drama, film, digital media and photography, literary studies, media and communication studies (including journalism and public relations), professional and creative writing, visual arts and other areas within the Faculty of Arts and Education.

Honours is a specialised year of study that allows you to draw together the theory and practical skills gained in previous undergraduate studies and develop an in-depth knowledge of your particular discipline through research and additional coursework and training in research techniques.

The Bachelor of Arts (Honours) program will provide intellectual stimulation, academic achievement and personal enrichment. You will be given the opportunity to undertake a substantial and original research project whilst being supervised by an academic with a proven research record. The skills acquired will enhance your future career prospects in a broad range of occupations in both private and public sectors, giving you an edge compared with a straight undergraduate degree.

For more information on honours degrees, please visit deakin.edu.au/honours.

For more information on pathways into Deakin University, please visit deakin.edu.au/pathways.

Work-Integrated Learning

Many Deakin courses provide opportunities to gain discipline-specific work experience through internships.

An internship is a para-professional learning arrangement with an external organisation. It has specific outcomes attached to it for your course and skill development and involves meeting prerequisite requirements and an application process.

An internship is not simply work experience – previous study in the relevant discipline is required for the placement. Each placement is carefully and individually planned by staff within the Faculty, and overseen by a dedicated academic supervisor. The internship culminates with a written report, which is combined with specific tasks monitored by a supervisor in the workplace.

At the conclusion of an internship, you will have acquired new skills and have a broader knowledge base, which will benefit your future career pursuits. You will gain important personal skills such as flexibility, awareness, maturity, tolerance and other specific workplace skills.

These opportunities provide graduates with a significant competitive-edge in the job market. Graduate recruiters usually give preference to students who have industry experience as they recognise that these students are better prepared for work and are likely to be making more informed decisions about their career choices.

Depending on your course or major sequence, internship units may be available in the areas listed below.

- Criminology
- History/Australian studies
- International relations
- Journalism
- Media and communication
- Politics and policy studies
- Public relations
- Sociology.

 Only available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of Criminology (A329).
 Only available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of Arts (Public Relations) (A325).
