Our academic staff are experienced industry professionals who are enthusiastic about sharing their skills and knowledge and providing you with valuable industry insights as you learn. Just some of the industry names our experienced academic staff have worked with include:

- Arts Victoria
- Associated Press
- BBC
- BHP
- Fairfax
- Optus
- Penguin Books
- Public Relations Institute of Australia (PRIA)
- Samsung
- Veuve Clicquot.

Innovative programs

Deakin aspires to be the university of choice for those wishing to study in the areas of communication, creative and performing arts. The mix of disciplines on offer gives students a wonderful opportunity to gain the knowledge needed to join the creative arts and communications professions. All our courses have been redesigned and refreshed for 2015. Join us as we continue to expand our unit offerings and focus on the best fit between critical study, professional preparation and a great student experience.

Flexible learning

Deakin offers flexible learning options. Many communication and creative arts courses at Deakin allow you to study across all our campuses, as well as via cloud (online) learning, increasing flexibility and enabling you to fit your study in with other commitments. Deakin's trimester system allows you to fast track your studies and complete your program within a shorter timeframe.

Recognition of success

At Deakin, we recognise that you've worked hard to get where you are. If you have studied a related degree and have significant industry experience, you may be eligible to receive credit towards your degree, allowing you to complete a masters in just one year.

Multidisciplinary learning

No matter what communication and creative arts course you study at Deakin, you will collaborate with students from other related courses, enhancing your studies and increasing networking opportunities both during your course and upon graduation. For example, visual communication design students have created promotional posters for drama students' performances. This reflects how the creative industries collaborate in the real world.

Studios and state-of-the-art technology

Learn in purpose-built facilities to enhance your knowledge and prepare you for work in the industry upon graduation. Based on professional recommendations, we are continuously improving our facilities so they are at the forefront of technology, providing students with access to the most up-to-date industry-standard equipment. Our students use dedicated studios for dance, drama, visual arts, television and sound, along with photographic darkrooms, light rooms and digital imaging suites.

Experiential learning

Deakin offers a range of located and virtual work integrated learning opportunities, including study tours, cross-discipline team projects, industry networking events and internships.

These experiences allow you to build a portfolio, develop discipline specific skills and network with leading industry practitioners from around Australia and the world – making your degree a truly worldly experience.

WHAT CAN I STUDY?

Explore the world of communication and creative arts at Deakin. You can study a wide variety of subjects, including writing and literature, film and television, journalism, public relations, entertainment production and photography, to name but a few.

COMMUNICATION

If you are looking for an exciting new career, have a desire to break into the communication industries or want to refine your skills to progress your career, look no further. Deakin's communication courses allow you to choose an area of specialisation or undertake a cross-disciplinary approach, expanding your skill set and enabling you to work across a number of closely related areas, including journalism, professional writing, public relations, television production and visual communication design.

CREATIVE ARTS

Creative arts at Deakin is an exciting interdisciplinary program that allows you to work across a wide range of creative arts disciplines – animation and motion capture, dance, drama, film and television, photography, visual arts and visual communication design. The courses are designed to enhance your career opportunities by providing you with advanced academic and professional skills in practice-led research and creative arts production.

WRITING AND LITERATURE

Are you looking to pursue a new direction or are you motivated to develop your writing talent? Studying writing and literature at Deakin gives you the opportunity to grow as a writer and to explore a unique combination of writing and literary options, both creative and professional. Specialisations include children's literature, creative writing, literary studies and professional writing.

See pages 6–10 for information on specialisations, as well as pages 13–14 for courses available.

CREATIVE ARTS HUB AT WATERFRONT

The stunning Geelong Waterfront Campus is now home to an inspiring creative arts hub, housing the latest technology, beautiful studio spaces and a collaborative work atmosphere, making it an ideal environment to undertake your postgraduate studies in the visual arts, visual communication design and photography.

DEAKIN CRACKS WORLD'S TOP 50 YOUNG UNIVERSITIES

Deakin has continued its climb up the Times Higher Education (THE) list of the world's top 100 universities under 50 years old, cracking the top 50 for the first time.

Deakin has been ranked number one in Victoria, number six in Australia and number 45 in the world.

The news confirms Deakin's rise in the ranks of the very best young universities worldwide, after prestigious international university rankings organisation Quacquarelli Symonds (QS) last year listed Deakin at number 50 on its Top 50 under 50.

Vice-Chancellor Professor Jane den Hollander says at only 40 years young, Deakin owes its continuing success to a strong vision for the future and its wonderful staff, researchers, students, communities and partners.

'In the past two years, Deakin has leapt 21 places from 66 to 45 in the list of the top 100 universities under 50 years old,' Professor den Hollander says.

'Times Higher Education says younger universities are bullish and "they have no fear of the future or of older rivals" – and I couldn't agree more. Deakin is ready to drive the innovation that will create the jobs of the future.'

Our creative arts courses offer a fresh, exciting opportunity for you to reach your creative potential.

Honours

Honours is a year of specialised study taken after the completion of an undergraduate degree. It builds on the foundations gained in your undergraduate degree and provides an excellent opportunity to learn new skills and obtain an in-depth understanding of a particular topic of personal interest.

An honours degree can be studied at any time and can contribute credit towards your master's degree, should you choose to undertake further study and continue to grow and develop your skills.

For more information, please contact an honours course adviser on +61 3 5227 2202 or email artsedstudentsupport@deakin.edu.au.

STUDY OPTIONS AND APPLICATIONS

We provide a range of options and choices to allow your postgraduate study to suit your needs:

- If you're studying via cloud (online) learning, you really can study anywhere or any time. Our use of the cloud means you don't have to attend a campus to have a rich, interactive, personal and empowering learning experience.
- If you do choose campus learning, our four campuses in Melbourne, Geelong (Waterfront and Waurn Ponds) and Warrnambool, give you plenty of options.
- Life can change very quickly and what suits you one year, might not the next. That's why many courses give you the option to switch between full-time and part-time study, as your needs shift.
- With more than 150 postgraduate courses, there's plenty to choose from at Deakin. Many courses also give you the flexibility to tailor your studies to your interests and aspirations through your choice of elective subjects.
- We can help you fast-track your degree through our trimester system. Deakin has three trimesters, with an optional trimester over the summer, which means that for some courses you can study year-round and complete your degree sooner.

Applications

Coursework applications

To apply for a postgraduate coursework degree you will usually need to have completed an undergraduate degree; however, there are other pathways. If you have considerable work or life experience, in some instances you may be able to use this to obtain admission into a graduate certificate or graduate diploma course. You may then progress to a master's degree subject to University approval.

Research applications

Deakin offers three types of research degrees: Master's by Research, Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) and Doctor of Psychology. A research degree requires the candidate to complete an approved program of research under the guidance of one or more supervisors within a time period. Supervisors are experienced and active researchers with expertise in the field of study.

Application dates

Applications for coursework degrees commencing in Trimester 3, 2015 and Trimester 1, 2016 open in August 2015. Applications for Trimester 2, 2016 open in April 2016. Some postgraduate courses have alternative application processes and closing dates. Applications for research candidature without scholarship may be made at any time.

STUDENT COMPUTING REQUIREMENTS

There are certain computing requirements students must meet in order to successfully study at Deakin. For more information, please visit deakin.edu.au/study-at-deakin/apply/computer-requirements.

WHAT IS CREDIT TRANSFER AND RECOGNITION?

Credit transfer and recognition is credit granted towards your Deakin course for relevant approved study or work experience. There are two aspects to credit transfer and recognition:

- credit may be transferred to your Deakin course from completed or partially completed studies you have undertaken at other accredited institutions
- credit may be granted on the basis of knowledge and skills acquired through uncredentialed learning.

Information correct at July 2015. Deakin University reserves the right to alter, amend or delete course offerings and other information listed.

* Fees quoted are for Australian domestic students and are based on a typical enrolment in one year of full-time study. They should be used as a guide only and are subject to change. Fee-Paying Place (FPP): 2016 annual course fees for FPPs are set, as shown in the FPP column. These are based on an annual full-time study load, regardless of your unit selection. Commonwealth Supported Place (CSP): The CSP rates shown in the CSP column are indicative 2015 annual course fees. CSP fees are indicative because they are calculated based on your unit selection. 2016 indicative CSP course fees will be available in late 2015 pending the outcome of the Commonwealth Government's proposed fee deregulation and reforms – please visit deakin.edu.au/fees for the most up-to-date information.

^ Most courses start in Trimester 1 (March to June). This column indicates whether you have the option of commencing your studies in Trimester 2 (July to October) or Trimester 3 (November to February). Not all units are offered in every trimester.

Course lengths may vary in response to requirements within the Australian Qualifications Framework. Applicants should refer to the handbook for the latest information, deakin.edu.au/handbook.

† Trimester 3 offering is via cloud (online) learning only.

‡ Trimester 3 intake is part-time only but from Trimester 1, 2017 students can transfer to full-time study.

SCHOLARSHIPS

At Deakin, we believe everyone should have the option of going to university. There is an array of scholarships available to students through Deakin and other parties, including the Australian Government.
