

Deakin University's School of Accounting, Economics and Finance invites you to a:

Workshop on Meta-Analysis in Economics and Commerce

Sponsored by Theoretical and Applied Economics Research (TAER)

Friday 28 November 2008
9.00 am – 5.00 pm
Elgar Rd, Burwood
Building Ib2.100

You are invited to a one-day workshop on the application of meta-analysis to economics and commerce. The workshop will address current developments and issues in meta-analysis, with presentations on human rights and foreign aid, foreign direct investment, drugs and alcohol, publication selection, school cost functions, audit fees, executive pay and performance, pension wealth and private savings, and inequality and economic growth.

Presenters include Professor Tom Stanley (Hendrix College, USA), Professor Martin Paldam (Aarhus University, Denmark), Professor David Hay (University of Auckland), Dr. James Fogarty (Tasman Institute), and Dr Margaret Giles (Edith Cowan).

The workshop offers an excellent opportunity for all researchers and post-graduate students to participate in the meta-analysis experience.

Prior registration is strongly encouraged. Registration is free. For registration and further details, please contact:
