Message from the Chancellor

On behalf of the Deakin University community, my congratulations to you, your families, and to all who have worked so hard towards achieving the success we now celebrate with you.

Like you, I am a Deakin alumnus, and I believe you will find as I have, that your Deakin qualification will be a valuable asset as you explore the opportunities ahead of you. Your Deakin degree will empower you to search for new opportunities with the confidence you can contribute, with the knowledge you are ready, and the resilience that will enable you to overcome the inevitable challenges and unexpected setbacks.

Your graduation marks the completion of your current academic journey, but it also signals the start of a new phase of your lives and your careers. Deakin is proud to have played its part in providing the skilled graduates who will make meaningful contributions to the world, fostering the creativity and skills which will generate the new ideas and enterprise necessary to face the global challenges of the 21st century.

Mr John Stanhope AM

Be proud of your achievement, you are a Deakin graduate and Deakin graduates are the truest evidence of the quality of the Deakin experience, they are a continued inspiration to Council, to staff, to each other and to future graduates.

I encourage you to keep in touch with your University. You'll find that Deakin's alumni community of over 275,000 graduates will be an invaluable resource for you as you embark on this next stage of your career. I hope you will take advantage of and contribute to this extraordinary community who all began their professional lives at Deakin.

Congratulations and best wishes for the future.

Mr John Stanhope AM
Chancellor

Message from the Vice-Chancellor

My sincere congratulations on your graduation from Deakin University.

While in this extraordinary year we cannot celebrate your graduation in the traditional way – a formal ceremony among family, friends and peers – we acknowledge your efforts, your sacrifices, and your success, and we welcome you to the Deakin alumni community. We should never underestimate the importance of a university journey, and the serious achievement of a student's graduation.

I hope you have enjoyed your time at Deakin, met and collaborated with talented and passionate people, made friends, been challenged, formed new perspectives and knowledge, and developed new skills. A Deakin education is known for being innovative and inclusive and we want you to take these qualities into the world. The years ahead will require an open, flexible mind that can respond to change, and find and create opportunities.

We look forward to seeing where your Deakin degree takes you. Your learning did not begin with our University, and it does not end with your graduation. I urge you to continue to be curious and to seek solutions. It is this questing for greater expertise and deeper understandings that will shape the future, along with the personal qualities and values that Deakin holds dear: integrity, bravery, community responsibility and social justice, and respect for diversity and inclusivity.

Professor Iain Martin

Foster your ambition; have confidence in your talents and abilities and revel in each new experience.

Congratulations to each of you and to your families. I wish you well in your future endeavours, and I hope that one day, your career journey brings you back to Deakin as continuing students, as colleagues, as mentors, as supporters and as friends.

Professor Iain Martin
Vice-Chancellor and President

Welcome to Deakin University Graduations

Welcome!

We would like to warmly welcome you to Deakin University's graduation ceremony. This program lists every student graduating, including those not in attendance and graduating in absentia. The Graduation Ceremony

'Kim barne barre Wadawurrung Dja' Welcome to Wadawurrung Country

Deakin University would like to acknowledge the Wadawurrung People, the traditional custodians of the land and the Wathaurong community where this graduation ceremony is taking place. We pay our respects for their continued care of the land and further extend that respect to elders past and present.

Order of Ceremony

Processional music heralds the arrival of the Academic Procession for the graduation ceremony.

At the commencement of this music, graduands and guests are asked to stand and remain standing for the National Anthem.

The Master of Ceremonies will open proceedings and the Chancellor (or representative) will deliver the opening address. The Vice-Chancellor (or representative) will then introduce the guest speaker who will deliver the occasional address.

The Chancellor (or representative) will then make a formal declaration conferring the awards of the University on the graduates, both present and in absentia, and will invite graduates to proceed to the stage according to the order published in the program.

A Faculty Executive Dean (or representative) will read out the names of graduates being presented to the Chancellor (or representative).

At the conclusion of the presentation of the graduates, a representative of the graduating students will deliver a brief response.

The Vice-Chancellor (or representative) will deliver the closing address. Following the closing address, there will be a musical performance.

At the conclusion of the ceremony guests are requested to stand while the stage party and graduates leave the hall.

Refreshments will then be served in the marquee in the John Hay Courtyard.

The University Mace

Maces were originally medieval weapons carried by bodyguards to kings and sergeants-at-arms. Much later, the mace became of ceremonial rather than practical significance and organisations such as civic corporations and universities adopted the mace as a symbol of the rule of legal authority.

The University's mace is displayed at meetings of the University Council and on such ceremonial occasions as conferring ceremonies. The bearer of the mace, in academic processions, 'guards' the Chancellor. Deakin's mace was presented to the University by Mr Donald Thomson, Sir Wilfred Brookes and Mr Norman Stephen (Alcoa Australia).

The Academic Procession

In academic processions, the order of precedence on entry is from junior to most senior. The Chancellor, therefore, is the last member of the procession, followed by the mace-bearer. The Deakin Academic Procession and stage party usually consists of:

Academic Dress

Academic dress is an important reminder of the long history of universities in western civilisation. The three main elements of academic dress are the gown, the hood and the head-dress, which were all once articles of everyday outer dress. Both gowns and hoods, when in common use, were often lined and this lining was decorative, as well as practical. In medieval times, the higher the rank of the wearer, the more sumptuous the gown.

In universities there is still a difference in the apparel of scholars of various ranks reflecting the origins of the academic dress. Today's academic head-dress evolved from various hats and bonnets of earlier times. Deakin University's academic dress, like that of most Australian universities, derives from dress worn at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge.

The University

Alfred Deakin

Deakin University was named in honour of Alfred Deakin (1856–1919), a remarkable Australian statesman, leading figure of the federation movement and three-time Prime Minister of Australia.

Alfred Deakin was a man of broad vision. Praised as a political leader, he was an outstanding orator, accomplished lawyer, a journalist, poet, an intellectual and an idealist motivated by a sense of duty to his country.

The son of English migrants, Alfred Deakin was born and educated in Melbourne, studying law at the University of Melbourne. He embarked upon a career in journalism with The Age and was a prolific reader of literature, philosophy, law and science, earning most of his income as a writer of social and political commentaries.

In 1879, Alfred Deakin launched his political career and became a successful Liberal candidate for the Victorian Parliament. A believer in democratic social reform, he became the acknowledged leader of the Australian Federation movement in Victoria. He was an active campaigner, a delegate at the federal conventions, member of the constitutional drafting committee and colonial representative in London.

Alfred Deakin was Deputy Prime Minister and Attorney-General in Australia's first government and, in 1903, he became Prime Minister. His many achievements include the establishment of the High Court of Australia, the introduction of labour and social reforms, the promulgation of new technologies such as irrigation and wireless telegraphy, support for the exploration of Antarctica and the introduction of financial support for Australian writers.

Alfred Deakin

The values of innovation, leadership, scholarship and reform embodied in Alfred Deakin are also fundamental values of Deakin University.

About Deakin University

Deakin University is one of Australia's largest universities. As a public not-for-profit university, Deakin combines excellent research and teaching and focuses on strengthening the communities it serves.

The University was established with the Deakin University Act of 1974 as Victoria's fourth university and the first in regional Victoria. Today it has over 61,000 students, of whom 14,000 are international students from over 100 countries. Almost 17,000 students choose to study online.

Deakin University has five campuses – one in Melbourne, two in Geelong, one in Warrnambool and the online Cloud Campus.

In addition, Deakin has prestigious multipurpose facilities in Melbourne and Geelong and international offices in India, Sri Lanka, China, Indonesia, Europe, Malaysia, Vietnam, Pakistan, Singapore and Latin America.

By any measure, Deakin is a most successful university that has enjoyed extraordinary growth in the last ten years. Deakin has a student-focused culture with a well-deserved reputation for student satisfaction and for being accessible, helpful and friendly.

Deakin is renowned for developing award-winning partnerships with industry, governments, communities, professional associations and other education providers. Building on successes across Australia, these alliances now spread to more than 30 countries. Deakin's alumni networks also stretch across the globe, with more than 275,000 members.

Building on the University's success

Deakin University's Strategic Plan – LIVE the future: Agenda 2020 – has provided a bold framework, while remaining true to the University's founding goals:

- to develop lasting and mutually beneficial relationships with rural and regional communities, in particular those in Geelong and Western Victoria
- to offer an educational experience that will widen participation and support students from diverse backgrounds.

These important aims continue to be core to the future of Deakin University. However, in a world that is now globally connected and where excellence and new ideas are available at the touch of a button, we will ensure that engagement and innovation 'anywhere' and 'everywhere we are' is grounded in all aspects of Deakin life – its teaching, its research and its enterprise – to enable our students and staff to thrive and to excel.

The University's vision and mission for its students, staff, alumni, partners and friends is to offer personalised experience with premium digital engagement, creating the power and opportunities to live in a connected and evolving world. Deakin is Australia's premier university in driving the digital frontier – enabling globally-connected education for the jobs of the future and research that makes a difference to the communities we serve.

Informed by its Australian context and engaged locally in the communities it serves, Deakin promises to advance:

- learning – offer brilliant education where you are and where you want to go
- ideas – make a difference through world-class innovation and research
- value – strengthen our communities, enable our partners and enhance our enterprise
- experience – delight our students, our alumni, our staff and our friends.

For all these reasons, Deakin University occupies an important place in the Australian higher education landscape.

The Deakin Story

- Deakin was established by the Victorian Parliament in 1974 as a 'university in the Geelong area'. Deakin began teaching on 1 April 1977.
- Deakin University was named after Alfred Deakin, who served as Prime Minister three times between 1903 and 1910 and was a significant figure in the achievement of Australian Federation.
- When it was established, Deakin incorporated two existing Geelong-based institutions – the Geelong State College and the Gordon Institute of Technology.
- Deakin had approximately 2500 students in its first year (1977), rising to 4800 in 1980.
- By 1984, Deakin had consolidated its operations at the Geelong Warrn Ponds Campus.
- Deakin's growth outside Geelong began in 1990 when it amalgamated with the Warrnambool Institute of Advanced Education. This continued in 1991 when it amalgamated with Victoria College, which operated from Burwood, Torak and Clayton.
- Deakin was one of the first Australian universities to embrace professional and continuing education to corporate clients, establishing Deakin Australia (now DeakinCo.) in 1993.
- In the mid-1970s, the disused woolstores on the waterfront in central Geelong was one site considered and rejected for the proposed university that was to become Deakin. In 1996, this idea came to fruition with the opening of the Geelong Waterfront Campus.
- In 2008, the Deakin University School of Medicine opened, becoming Victoria's first rural and regional medical school.
- February 2012 saw the first intake of students in the new Bachelor of Vision Science/Master of Optometry degree.
- In July 2012, Deakin University launched its Strategic Plan – LIVE the future: Agenda 2020.
- In response to continued growth in student and staff numbers at Deakin, since 2013 new buildings and major improvements have included:
 - the iconic gateway building at the Melbourne Burwood Campus
 - Centre for Advanced Design Engineering Training at the Geelong Warrn Ponds Campus
 - expansion of student accommodation across all campuses.
- In March 2014, the University declared it would be a smoke-free environment.

- In May 2014, the $34 million globally unique cutting-edge carbon fibre research and innovation facility, Carbon Nexus, officially opened at the Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus.
- In December 2014, Deakin celebrated its 200,000th graduate.
- In January 2016, John Stanhope AM assumed the position of Deakin's Chancellor, taking over from David Morgan who served as Chancellor for 10 years.
- In April 2016, the Deakin Business School received accreditation by The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business International, the longest serving global accrediting body for business schools in the world.
- In August 2016, the Deakin University Community Bank® initiative with Bendigo Bank was launched – the first collaboration of its kind between a university and a financial institution.
- Deakin partnered with FutureLearn to offer full degrees online and short free courses through FutureLearn's global platform.
- In 2017 Deakin University and LeMond Composites joined forces in a $58m deal to revolutionise the use of carbon fibre across the world.
- In 2017 Deakin opened two new Institutes: the Institute for Health Transformation and the Deakin Applied Artificial Intelligence Institute.
- In 2017 the expanded TERI-Deakin Nanobiotech Centre was opened by the Prime Minister.
- In 2017 Deakin ranked 213 globally by the prestigious Academic Ranking of World universities.
- In 2018 Deakin officially launched its Innovation Hub ManuFutures.
- In 2018 Deakin partnered with AusNet Services to establish a 7.25 MW smart microgrid at its Geelong Waurin Ponds campus.
- In 2018 Deakin's School of Exercise and Nutrition Sciences ranked third in the world by the Academic ranking of World Universities.
- Deakin ranked first in Victoria for student satisfaction for the 9th consecutive year (AGS;GOS).
- Deakin's Careers Service was recognised by the graduate recruitment industry as the best careers service in Australia for the third consecutive year in 2019.
- The 2018 Excellence in Research for Australia rankings saw Deakin performing at or above world standard in 100% of its research (up from 90% in 2015)
- In March 2019, Deakin celebrated 25 years of engagement in India. Deakin was the first international university to establish an office in India.

The Campuses

Deakin is a large university with all the accompanying resources and infrastructure, but its campuses are small enough to retain their own character and sense of community. Each of our campuses offers a unique atmosphere – from the inspiring architecture and bayside appeal of our Geelong Waterfront Campus, to the cafe culture of our Melbourne Burwood Campus, the spectacular coastal location at our Warrnambool Campus or the mix of activity and open space at our Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus.

Melbourne Burwood Campus

This thriving campus is Deakin's largest. Located 15km from the Melbourne CBD, it boasts open and inviting spaces for socialising and studying, innovative architecture and wireless locations. An ambitious building program has resulted in a new complex of spacious modern buildings, including the gateway building situated on Burwood Highway and the state-of-the-art Indoor Exercise and Sport Science Teaching Building, completed in 2019. Refurbishment of older buildings, a library extension, expansion of residential accommodation, a 250-seat lecture theatre and a large landscaped central courtyard have all created a campus that is well-resourced and well-designed. The campus is home to the Deakin University Art Gallery and the Deakin Motion.Lab, a state-of-the-art motion capture facility that produces 3D animation and special effects, similar to those used in films such as Avatar and The Lord of the Rings.

Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus

Deakin's Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus is located 8km from the centre of the historic port city of Geelong, which is 72km south-west of Melbourne. Geelong is Victoria's largest regional city with a population close to 225,000.

Set among extensive landscaped grounds, the Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus boasts hectares of native trees, grassy lawns, lakes and avenues. There are many specialist facilities at this campus, including an outstandingly resourced library, audiovisual production studios, research laboratories and an extensive computer centre. The Waurin Ponds Estate provides first-class conference and convention facilities.

Also located at the Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus is the Geelong Future Economy Precinct. The Precinct draws on over 15 years of investment in developing the research expertise and facilities in areas such as carbon and ultra-fine fibre, nanotechnology and composite materials, as well as robotics, pattern recognition and data analytics. Some of Australia's, and the world's, leading advanced manufacturers now call the Precinct home.

Geelong Waterfront Campus

The Geelong Waterfront Campus is Deakin's newest campus, located on the beautiful foreshore of Corio Bay in the central business district of Geelong. Originally built in 1893, the historic woolstore building has undergone extensive redevelopment to create a modern and impressive campus centre.

The centrepiece of the campus is Costa Hall, a concert hall of international standard, where a number of university ceremonies, cultural performances and community functions take place, including Deakin's graduation ceremonies.

Also located at this campus is the refurbished Sally Walker Building, which houses the Alfred Deakin Prime Ministerial Library and the Alfred Deakin Research Institute. The Alfred Deakin Research Institute is an interdisciplinary teaching and research centre covering political science, public policy and governance, international relations, globalisation, journalism and communications.

Warrnambool Campus

Warrnambool is the commercial, cultural and educational heart of south-west Victoria. A premier tourist destination, it boasts stunning coastlines, renowned surf beaches and is the state's foremost site for whale watching.

Located 262km from Melbourne, the campus is set on 114 sprawling hectares on the banks of the picturesque Hopkins River. Our lecturers, students and staff at the Warrnambool Campus form a real community, where communication is open and informal.

Campus facilities include a comprehensive library, excellent teaching and learning spaces, a cafe, gymnasium, bookshop and golf course. Located just 5km from the centre of Warrnambool, the campus ensures that Deakin contributes to the vitality of the local community in the tradition of many university cities.

NIKERI Institute

Deakin University is proud to have the largest number of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students of any Victorian university.

The National Indigenous Knowledges Education Research and Innovation (NIKERI) Institute commenced in 1991 and offers programs that are structured around off-campus community-based delivery, supported by on-campus intensive study blocks and complemented by local tutors at regional study centres.

This approach to course delivery promotes access and equity for Indigenous Australian students. Students from all areas of the country – rural, remote and metropolitan, and across all age ranges, particularly mature age – are able to undertake studies without compromising their family and community obligations.

In November 2019, the Institute won the prestigious Dreamtime Education Award for 'Education Institute of the Year'.

Felicity Biggins

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Journalist or Novelist?’

Summary

This study situates the underprivileged reader in the discourse of literary journalism by analysing how readers process its use of literary devices to tell true stories. It shows engaged readers can be trusted to navigate the blurred boundaries of literary journalism, alleviating concerns over its non-fiction status and truth-telling claims.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Matthew Ricketson

School:

Communication and Creative Arts

Rebecca Buys

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Temporal and Relational Entanglements: Exploring the Royal Commission into Family Violence.’

Summary

This research explores the experiences of women engaging with the 2016 Royal Commission into Family Violence (Victoria, Australia). Their accounts problematise the construction of public inquiries as independent, objective, and transparent discrete events. Instead, their stories drew attention to complex relational constellations, multi-directional power relations, and overlapping and ongoing temporalities.

Thus, this study proposes a critical-relational conceptualisation that understands public inquiries as complex, relational and non-linear processes.

Executive Supervisor:

Professor Fethi Mansouri

Co-supervisor:

Associate Professor Vince Marotta

School:

Humanities and Social Sciences

Diane Patricia Carroll

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Education Reform, the Real Cost: Education Outcomes at the Expense of the School Principal.’

Summary

This research investigates educational reform impacts on principal health and wellbeing through the lived experiences of principal job satisfaction and stress. The findings indicated the high job satisfaction did not reduce levels of stress or mitigate the effect of stress, but it was the reason high levels of stress were accepted as normal.

Executive Supervisor:

Professor Dianne Toe

Co-supervisor:

Dr Ben Arnold

School:

Tina Daniel-Zitzlaff

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Teaching Early Reading: Teacher Perspectives of Practice.’

Summary

This study examined teachers’ perspectives of their early reading instruction in Victorian state primary schools. The literature review highlights a deep body of scientific research related to improving early reading for many children. Outcomes revealed considerable conflict and frustration between colleagues and leadership in schools regarding the use of scientifically-based research evidence for early reading instruction to reach a wider range of learners.

Executive Supervisor:

Professor Damian Blake

Co-supervisor:

Amanda Mooney

School:

Rachel Fetherston

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Reading for Nature: Non-human Representation in Australian Ecofiction.’

Summary

This thesis investigates the representation of the Australian non-human, the climate crisis and related issues in Australian ecofiction published within the last decade. It discusses the researcher’s ecocritical analysis of six selected works of Australian ecofiction and the responses to these same works by participants in a reader survey.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Emily Potter

School:

Communication and Creative Arts

Lynette Hinings-Marshall

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘A Flash Life: Exploring Female Understandings of Home Through Experimental Memoir.’

Summary

This thesis explores opening up the memoir. It investigates how experimental memoir has a particular capacity to accommodate both collective and individual senses of belonging. A process that involves writing to and between a series of interviews with female expatriates whose lives intersected with my own was developed.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Ann Vickery

School:

Communication and Creative Arts

Abbas Mehrabiboshraadi

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Developing First Year Students’ Evaluative Judgement of Academic Writing.’

Summary

This research explores the concept of evaluative judgement of academic writing and the type of activities in the writing context that can be mapped into the practices of evaluative judgement. The findings showed that evaluative judgement of academic writing is a capability with three interrelated components: understanding standards of quality, making judgements, and taking actions. It was also revealed that three types of activities (peer review, group discussion, and reflection on performance) had a significant impact on the development of these components.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Rola Ajjawi

School:

Education

Neena Balwan Sachdev

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Trauma, Desire and Hope in Contemporary Novels of Sexual Abuse.’

Summary

This thesis maps flows of desire and hope in six contemporary novels of sexual abuse. Through textual and theoretical analysis, the social and personal effects on mind, body and spirit of all major characters – abusers, abused and onlookers – are explored. The thesis invites discussion on the nature of hope.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Lyn Mc Credden

School:

Communication and Creative Arts

Samantha Stephens

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘From Conflict to Kinship: Renegotiating Age in Youth Fantasy Fiction.’

Summary

This study investigated representations of age and age relations in Western children’s and YA fantasy fiction. It explored such fiction as a resource for reflecting on intergenerational interactions outside of an adult/child binary. The findings pointed to fiction for young people being a useful tool for questioning ageism and promoting complex cross-age connections.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Leonie Rutherford

School:

Communication and Creative Arts

Catherine Margaret West

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Colombo Transformed: Urbanisation and Religious Pluralism in Sri Lanka.’

Summary

This research considers the relationship between urbanisation and religious pluralism in Sri Lanka. It combines original ethnographic field work and extant literature to explore the history and current-day reality of urban religion in Colombo.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Rohan Bastin

Master of Arts (Research) – MA

Bhanuraj Kashyap

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Levinas and Singer: A Dialogue on Reasons, Suffering and Compassion.’

Summary

This thesis facilitates a dialogue between Levinas and Singer on the topic of normative reasons for action and on the role of compassion in moral philosophy. This thesis argues that in Singer and De Lazari-Radek’s rationalist framework, normative reasons for action derive their motivational force from a prior encounter with the Levinasian Other, and concludes by suggesting that Singer and De Lazari-Radek’s rationalism must make space for Levinas’s face-to-face encounter.

Bruno Agustini

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Effects of Aspirin on the Management of Depression in Older Adults: Data Analyses of the ASPREE Cohort.’

Summary

This thesis explored factors related to the prevalence, course, and potential consequences of late-life depression. It also investigated the role of aspirin for the management of depression in this population. Results failed to show any benefit and point to a potential iatrogenic effect of aspirin in those with pre-existing depressive symptoms.

Executive Supervisor:

Professor Michael Berk

Co-supervisor:

Dr Mohammadreza Mohebbi

School:

Medicine

Fiona Dangerfield

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘The Food Environment and Food Purchasing Behaviour in Regional Australia.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the potential role of the food environment in influencing food purchasing behaviours and policy responses in regional Australia.

Findings have implications for how characteristics of regional food environments are measured, and the development of local policy and interventions to support the creation of healthy food environments in regional communities.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Lukar Thornton

School:

Exercise and Nutrition Sciences

Mohammed Mehadi Hassan Chowdhury

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘PVA Coated Doxorubicin Loaded Zinc Ferrite Nanoparticles Against Liver Cancer.’

Summary

This study investigated the efficacy of ultra-small zinc ferrite nanoparticles as therapeutic agents and drug delivery materials in liver cancer treatment. The effects of the physicochemical factors on the properties of zinc ferrite nanoparticles were also investigated. The findings pointed to significant anticancer effects in liver cancer treatment.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Wei Duan

School:

Medicine

Liana Niamh Mundell

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Optimising Cognitive Health during Ageing: Implications for Exercise Oncology.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the relationship between physical function and cognition during ageing in obese older adults and during prostate cancer treatment. It examined the effects of exercise and nutritional supplementation to cognition in men treated with androgen deprivation therapy. Outcomes support optimisation of physical function and cardiorespiratory fitness for cognition in obese older adults and during prostate cancer treatment.

Executive Supervisor:

Associate Professor Steve Fraser

Co-supervisor:

Professor Robin Daly

School:

Exercise and Nutrition Sciences

Nicholas Patrick Taylor

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Modelling how Liquor Supply Restrictions Impact Alcohol-related Harm in Entertainment Precincts.’

Summary

This thesis examines how policies that restrict access to alcohol influence violence within nightlife spaces, known as night-time entertainment precincts (NEPs). Three studies examine the impact of different alcohol restrictions on violence within Queensland’s NEPs. The findings of these studies are incorporated into a theoretical model, connecting policy to aggression.

Executive Supervisor:

Professor Peter Miller

Co-supervisor:

Dr Kerri Coomber

School:

Psychology

Bianca Tasneem Tepper

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Extracellular Matrix Remodelling: Role in Insulin Resistance and Exercise Adaptations.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the role of ADAMTS5, an extracellular matrix remodelling enzyme, in the development of diet induced insulin resistance. This work also explored whether ADAMTS5 is involved in the regulation of metabolic and skeletal muscle adaptations in response to aerobic exercise, and whether exercise regulates ADAMTS5 gene and protein expression.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Kirsten Howlett

School:

Exercise and Nutrition Sciences

Doctor of Psychology (Clinical) – DPsych(Clin)

Emma Stephens

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Exploring Executive and Social Functioning in Attention-deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder Alone and Attention-deficit/Hyperactivity disorder and Autism Spectrum Disorder.’

Summary

This thesis compared executive functioning in children with attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder alone and co-occurring autism spectrum disorder and attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder. There were more similarities than differences across inhibition, planning, and verbal working memory. Three profiles of executive functioning were identified, which were not related to diagnosis. Executive functioning profiles were associated with impaired social functioning above the contribution of their diagnostic group.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Emma Sciberras

School:

Psychology

Peter Tsokas

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Emotional Cascades in Dysregulated Eating Behaviours.’

Summary

This thesis aimed to examine the application of the Emotional Cascade Model to the understanding of dysregulated eating behaviours within clinical and non clinical dysregulated eating populations.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Petra Staiger

School:

Psychology

Master Degrees

Master of Philosophy – MPhil

Matthew Thackeray

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Assessment of Muscle Mass in Intensive Care Unit Patients.’

Summary

This thesis reports that lean mass is not a predictor of ICU admission, indicating that patients arrived at the ICU with lean mass comparable to population-based normative values. After deriving and validating models to estimate whole-body lean and fat mass from spine and hip DXA, changes in body composition in survivors of critical illness in the year following critical were measured. ICU patients gained greater amounts of fat mass than lean mass in survivorship.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Julie Pasco

School:

Medicine

Master of Surgical Research – MSurgRes

Steve Yee Chiang Lau

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Outcomes of Transanal Total Mesorectal Excision in Australasia.’

Summary

This thesis describes the outcomes of transanal total mesorectal excision (taTME) for rectal cancer in Australasia. TaTME can potentially lead to better oncological outcomes, particularly in obese patients. However, some studies in Europe have shown higher local recurrence rates. This study showed that taTME can be performed safely and provides good oncological results.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Ecology and Function of a Foundation Species in Agricultural Landscapes.’

Summary

This thesis examines the ecology of a foundation species of spinifex grass (Triodia scariosa) in an agricultural landscape. The attenuation of temperature was a leading functional mechanism for use of this grass by lizards. Proximity to reserves was an important driver of spinifex occurrence, and spinifex was negatively associated with high nutrients and compact soils, which are often higher in linear remnants. The use of fire helped to promote germination but killed adult plants. Timing management actions to favourable weather events may help mitigate slow population decline in the study region.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Triboelectric Fibres for Strain Sensors and Energy Harvesting Applications.’

Summary

This thesis prepared a high-performance triboelectric filament using a continuous coating process. Based on this filament, various triboelectric devices have been designed.

The understanding of textile-based triboelectric devices could be useful to develop highly efficient energy harvesting devices and practically useable wearable sensors.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Effect of Recycled Acrylic Fibre and External Additives on the Evolution of Structure and Properties of PAN Precursor and Carbon Fibres.’

Summary

This research focused on developing low-cost carbon fiber by utilisation of recycled textile grade acrylic fiber(RAF) replacing existing costlier special acrylic fibre-based precursors. RAF blended in low (10%wt) and high (50%wt) concentrations with high molecular weight Homo-PAN and stabilisation initiator additives i.e. terephthalic acid (TA) or graphene carboxylate (GRC) was wet spun into precursors. Precursors converted to carbon fibre as per the commercial PAN precursor process. This study demonstrated the development of carbon fibre with the desired properties and established the use of RAF and new additives for the stabilisation of carbon fibre.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘A Light-based Location Tracking System for Indoor Environments.’

Summary

This research investigated light-based location tracking technologies for indoor environments. Two prototypes were developed for positioning of humans and assets. These systems were power-optimized, and utilised dynamic infrared laser beams and a novel positioning algorithm. The experimental results indicated a 90th percentile positioning accuracy of 71 millimetres.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Interfacial Effects in Novel Organic Ionic Plastic Crystals and Polymer Composites.’

Summary

This thesis provides fundamental description of the nature of the interaction between organic ionic plastic crystals and polymer composites. It also presents the application of organic ionic plastic crystals and polymer composites as electrolytes for practical batteries. Also, this thesis has been structured to form a foundation to inspire further studies and application of organic ionic plastic crystals and polymer composites as practical electrolytes.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Functional Interactions between Plant Symbiotic Fungi and Biofilm Forming Organisms.’

Summary

This research highlighted the diversity and functional roles of bacteria associated with arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi. In vitro recreation assays were designed to better understand the underlying mechanisms and metabolites that underpin the association. These symbiotic tripartite interactions have the potential to be developed into value-added biofertilizers for sustainable agriculture.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Acoustic Developmental Programming and Thermoregulation in the Heat.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the effects of developmental conditions on thermoregulation in the heat in zebra finches (Taeniopygia guttata). The findings show that developmental conditions have life-long consequences for heat tolerance. In addition, this research has contributed to a better understanding of inter and intra-individual variations in thermoregulation in birds.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Improving Corrosion Resistance of Reinforced Concrete Utilising Biomedical Polymeric Waste.’

Summary

A comprehensive experimental and analytical study was conducted on the concrete containing biomedical polymeric waste sourced from dialysis treatment. The fresh and hardened properties, transport and diffusivity, and corrosion behaviour of the concrete were investigated. The obtained results have been compared with conventional concrete. Predictive models have also been introduced.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Decentralised and Lightweight Blockchain-based Framework for Smart Healthcare System.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the problem of securely accessing and sharing electronic medical records among different healthcare providers. Due to rapid advancement of Internet-of-things technologies, increasing number of smart healthcare gadgets provide greater access to electronic medical records than before for monitoring patients’ health. In this thesis, we proposed a decentralized and lightweight blockchain-based framework for smart-healthcare, with patients being epicentre of the system.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Deep Emotions: In-depth Emotion Recognition using Deep Learning.’

Summary

This thesis investigated a series of emotion recognition tasks using deep learning techniques. The primary focus of this research is to devise effective deep learning algorithms to perform an in-depth analysis of emotions. The findings revealed that this study can be utilised in many applications, ranging from social to medical.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Semi-Supervised Models for Android Malware Detection.’

Summary

This thesis focuses on the detection of Android malware. It proposes detection models to detect malicious applications. It introduces Semi-supervised detection models and achieves superior performance.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Effective Sequential Learning for Student Performance Prediction.’

Summary

The study investigates the extent to which students gradually acquire relevant concepts as they exercise through an online education platform in order to predict their performance in advance. The findings suggest that modelling the students’ daily online exercises can be a good predictor of their final performance in examinations.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Jianxin Li

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Investigating the Structure-property Relationships of a High Temperature Epoxy Matrix for Structural and Thermal Applications.’

Summary

This work investigates a class of high temperature naphthalene based glycidyl ether epoxy resins for use in structural and thermal composites applications. A comparative study of cure kinetics, network properties, and properties of the modified resins is detailed with respect to mechanical performance, thermal stability, and fracture toughness.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Russell Varley

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Data Caching in Edge Computing.’

Summary

This thesis presents novel data caching technologies in edge computing with its three unique constraints, i.e., server capacity constraint, server coverage constraint and server adjacency constraint. Three major challenges are addressed in this thesis, including edge data placement, edge data replacement and edge data distribution problems.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Feifei Chen

School:

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Deep Learning on Low-resource Platforms.’

Summary

This thesis aims to tackle the challenge of how to implement deep learning on edge devices, by addressing the main issues of the significant data storage and memory access caused by excessive parameters and intermediate results, which benefits on-device artificial intelligence applications driven by Deep learning and internet of things.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘A Systematic Approach to 3D Printed Cast Manufacturing.’

Summary

This thesis depicts the research performed to investigate and develop a system to create 3D printed, patient-specific, upper-limb orthoses. The thesis is the summation of the experimentation and developments made in multi-camera 3D scanning, Design optimisation and scripting, and 3D print optimisation of the orthoses.

Logan Jackson Rolfe

Thayamie Roshanara Evanjaleen S N
Wanninayaka Mudiyansele

Aidan Robert Walsh

The Global Citizenship Award recognises the achievement of students who have demonstrated outstanding global citizenship through engagement in a range of activities that develop and demonstrate their interpersonal and intercultural capability across variable cultural contexts and global environments. This award recognises the importance of intercultural understanding and respect to the success of graduates, organisations and communities.

Deakin Hallmark: Teamwork Excellence in Environmental Science

Rebecca Ffrost

This Deakin Hallmark warrants the achievement of students who have used their outstanding teamwork skills to make a substantial contribution in the field of environmental science. This award recognises the essential role that teamwork plays in the employability of environmental scientists and managers who must work effectively with diverse groups solving complex problems for the benefit of the environment and communities.

Elijah Bolotaolo Bajao

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Public Secondary Teachers’ Classroom Practices in Indonesia: A Case Study.’

Summary

This study investigated the complexities of enacting pedagogical change at the micro-level of the teacher and classroom. The study utilised methods informed by postmodern perspectives and rhizomatic concepts. The findings revealed that the participants developed their pedagogies through interconnected and contextually situated processes. These findings suggested that the relationship between professional learning and classroom practices is complex and non-linear.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Poetry and the Trauma of Child Abuse: A Creative Thesis and Exegesis.’

Summary

This research asks, ‘how does poetry allow trauma to speak?’. The candidate wrote a collection of poetry plus an exegesis, discovering that through the materials of poetry inarticulate and embedded trauma emerges and is transformed. The constraints and affordances of poetry act as a holding place for suffering, empowering survivors.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Interrogating Postfeminist Female Empowerment in Bestselling Post-millennial Young Adult Literature.’

Summary

This thesis interrogates four tropes of postfeminist female empowerment; feminine masquerade, ‘sex-positive’ sexuality, authentic individualism, and the ‘strong’ female character, in various bestselling postmillennial young adult titles. It shows that the female protagonists’ assertion of empowerment is often illusory: under the guise of choice they often maintain existing gendered discourses.

Whose thesis is entitled:

'The Impacts of Proxy War on Afghanistan.'

Summary

This thesis examines the effects of the proxy war on Afghanistan from 2001 to 2014, focusing on Taliban-Pakistan relations during the war. The main argument of this thesis is that proxy war prolonged violence and profoundly challenged the state's legitimacy, its monopoly on the use of violence, and its territorial control.

Whose thesis is entitled:

'Toward a Neo-Lockean Account of Our Obligations to the Dead.'

Summary

This thesis argues that the Termination Thesis is incompatible with everyday practices toward the dead. The thesis concludes that a neo-Lockean account of posthumous survival is preferable as it aligns with our everyday practices toward the dead.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Patrick Stokes

School:

Humanities and Social Sciences

Whose thesis is entitled:

'CARE DANCE: Dance/Movement Improvisation and the Ethics of Care.'

Summary

This research explores how considerations of care can create the conditions for an ongoing, long-term dance/movement improvisation practice and performance work, utilising feminist moral theory, the ethics of care, as a theoretical framework. A dance film, CARE DANCE, accompanies this exegesis as a creative artefact.

Whose thesis is entitled:

'Multiculturalism and Public Relations Practice in Victorian Government and Multicultural Sectors.'

Summary

This thesis investigates how multiculturalism is understood, experienced and enacted by practitioners and stakeholders involved in multicultural communications in the Victorian government and multicultural sectors. The results of my research point to new approaches for improving the capacity of practitioners to work more effectively with culturally and linguistically diverse communities.

Whose thesis is entitled:

'Leadership in Early Childhood Education in Singapore.'

Summary

This study aims to investigate selected early childhood leaders' perspectives on enablers and barriers of their roles to be effective leaders in Singapore. A mixed-methods approach was employed to achieve the aims of the study. Results of this study have implications for early childhood leaders' personal and professional development and implications for professional recognition of effective leaders in Singapore.

Whose thesis is entitled:

'Canadian Educators' Perspectives on the Future of Occupational Therapy Teaching.'

Summary

This research explored experiences of educators who prepare students for occupational therapy practice. Findings show that structural impacts of the global, corporate, neoliberal environment influence university governance strongly, bringing heightened demands for educators and fundamentally changing the nature of teaching and learning, with far-reaching effects and serious implications.

Whose thesis is entitled:

'The Belt and Road: Implementing China's Plan for National Rejuvenation.'

Summary

This thesis contributes to understanding the Chinese perspective on the Belt and Road Initiative, within the context of Chinese understandings of world politics. Harnessing a Marxist framework the thesis finds that China envisages the BRI as a new material substructure for global trade and investment that supports an expanding superstructure of services.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘A Comparative Analysis of Equity Crowdfunding Regulations in Multiple Jurisdictions (Australia, United Kingdom, United States, New Zealand): Insights for Nigeria.’

Summary

This thesis critically examined and applied the equity crowdfunding regimes and market performances in Australia, the UK, the US, and New Zealand. It identified effective regulatory practices for developing economies with focus on Nigeria. The thesis proposed broader interpretations of gatekeeping responsibilities for online intermediary platforms including implementing a nominee shareholder structure and providing investment ready measures.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Job Demands, Mental Health, and Job Performance in Healthcare.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the effects of job demands on mental health and job performance among healthcare professionals. It highlighted the significance of decent working conditions in the healthcare sector. The findings pointed to HRM systems and practices that could mitigate the negative impacts of job demands whilst fostering community benefits.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Measures of Bone for Assessing Fracture Risk.’

Summary

This thesis investigates the potential utility of emerging technologies to assess bone health in the context of fracture risk with ageing. The body of work demonstrates utility for a range of new measures and techniques and brings these technologies closer to practical advancement in the clinical space.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Detection and Characterisation of Animal Influenza and Other Viruses.’

Summary

This PhD thesis has shown the usefulness of next generation sequencing (NGS) to detect and characterise a variety of viruses potentially involved in causing diseases in animals. It has been demonstrated that NGS can be helpful to detect co-infections and identify the possible origin and unexpected long-distance transmission routes of viruses.

‘The Human-Staphylococcus Aureus Relationship; Predicting Disease Presentation in Bacteraemia.’

Summary

This study investigated human, clinical, and bacterial factors that influence poor outcomes in Staphylococcus aureus bacteraemia. Using a prospective adult clinical cohort, genetics, microbiology, and epidemiology identified that there were several factors that had predictive potential for poor outcomes in this disease.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Behavioural and Psychophysiological Indices of Cognitive Differences During Pregnancy.’

Summary

This thesis systematically investigate whether human pregnancy impact behavioural and psychophysiological indices of executive functions, with a particular emphasis on response inhibition. A mixed methods approach using behavioural cognitive tasks and psychophysiological investigative methods was used, and four studies were conducted. The findings suggest that response inhibition is not modulated by human pregnancy.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Dietary Patterns in Iranian Adults.’

Summary

This thesis examined 11-year trends in dietary intakes in Iranian adults during the nutrition transition and used nationally representative data on Iranian adults to determine the applicability of two diet quality indices for assessing diet quality and to investigate associations between a priori and empirical dietary patterns and obesity.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Theta Burst Stimulation and Cognition in Ageing and Parkinson’s Disease.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the effects of a single session of theta burst stimulation on cognition and associated cerebral haemodynamic responses. Ageing modulated the improved cognitive performance and increased haemodynamic activation observed following a single session of intermittent theta burst stimulation. The effects were further pronounced for people with Parkinson’s disease.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Components of the Emotional Cascade Model in Treatment-Seeking Young People.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the roles of distress, rumination and negative urgency across dysregulated, and often co-occurring behaviours experienced by young people seeking treatment for mental health and substance use difficulties. The findings demonstrated that negative urgency should be a core focus of intervention for dysregulated behaviours.

Principal Supervisor:

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘The Transdiagnostic Utility of Negative Urgency and Distress Tolerance across Substance Use, Eating, and Borderline Personality Disorders.’

Summary

This thesis examines the shared and conjoint roles of emotion-driven impulsivity (negative urgency) and distress tolerance across substance use, eating, and borderline personality disorders. The research presented in this thesis supported the view that these two constructs are distinct transdiagnostic vulnerability factors and intervention targets. Further longitudinal and experimental research into these constructs is required to bolster transdiagnostic interventions.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Development of a Stress-Reduction Intervention for Binge Eating.’

Summary

This thesis aimed to refine the affect regulation model of binge eating and develop a targeted intervention. Outcomes included the importance of assessing affect as a multi-faceted measure, refinement of the affect regulation model to states associated with high arousal, and recommendations for future micro-intervention and disordered eating studies.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Perinatal Depression and Anxiety and Offspring Cognitive Development.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the relationship between perinatal maternal depression and anxiety and child development, with a specific focus on executive function and academic achievement in middle childhood. The findings support the notion that perinatal mental health disorders may have an adverse impact on child development and underscore the importance of screening, early intervention and treatment.

‘Lithium-ion Batteries Based on Silicon Anode and Ionic Liquid Electrolytes.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the behavior of silicon anode for lithium-ion batteries using ionic liquid (IL) electrolytes. The findings highlighted that the use of superconcentrated IL electrolytes with small phosphonium cations are an extremely efficient approach to control and master the composition and characteristics of the solid electrolyte interphase formed on silicon-based electrodes, leading to superior electrochemical performance.

‘The Development of Potent, Broad Spectrum Norbornane-Based Antibacterial Agents.’

Summary

This thesis is about the continued development of amphiphilic norbornane-based antibacterial agents. A range of compounds with acyl or alkyl substituted guanidines were synthesized to determine the effect of guanidine substitution on antibacterial activity.

Compounds with branched chain or Z-alkene hydrophobic groups were also synthesized. All new compounds were evaluated for antibacterial activity and cytotoxicity.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘On the Nature of Permadeath Experiences in Video Games.’

Summary

This thesis investigated the nature of players’ permadeath experiences in video games. It identified fundamental differences in players’ reading of death, as well as related motivations and emotions at play. The findings provide key models for death’s design in games, and insights for future research within and beyond the field.

‘The Ecology and Niche Segregation of Diving Petrels.’

Summary

This study investigates the ecological niche of the common and the South-Georgian diving petrels. The objectives were to:

1) describe their fine scale foraging ecology; 2) investigate the temporal and spatial variations in their ecological niche; and 3) study the variations in their foraging ecology throughout the entire annual-cycle in the context of niche segregation.

‘Spatial Ecology of a Pond-breeding Amphibian in Forestry and Agriculture.’

Summary

This research investigated the spatial ecology of the threatened Tasmanian frog, Litoria raniformis, within forestry and agriculture two heavily modified landscapes. It assessed the potential influences of matrix composition, anthropogenic disturbance, and habitat complexity. The findings indicate significantly different capacities for L. raniformis maintenance between these two altered landscapes.

Whose thesis is entitled:

‘Understanding Ion Interactions and Dynamics in Novel Ionic Liquid Electrolytes by Advanced Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Spectroscopy.’

Summary

This study probed the ion interactions and dynamics in novel ionic liquid electrolytes for lithium battery applications. The findings show how nuclear magnetic resonance, complemented with molecular dynamics simulations, can be used to illuminate ion dynamics in complex ionic liquid electrolyte mixtures.

‘The Interactions of Self-Assembled Lubricin Coating with Surfaces and Molecules – from Fundamental Studies to Practical Applications.’

Summary

This thesis provides an understanding of the fundamental interactions when coating Lubricin (LUB) on different substrate surfaces, and the synergistic performance between LUB and hyaluronic acid. In addition, potential applications by utilising self-assembled LUB layers such as biolubricant for contact lenses, drug delivery system, and biosensor for the detection of bodily fluid are investigated.

‘Development of Dynamic Nano-polysaccharide Hydrogels for Wearable Strain Sensing.’

Summary

This thesis aims to answer the following research question: ‘How can dynamic hydrogels be developed with both autonomous self-healing and high mechanical strength to provide durability and reliability for strain sensing?’. To address this research question, nano-polysaccharides have been introduced into a dynamic hydrogel formulation.

‘Vision Based Driver Fatigue Prediction.’

Summary

This research proposed mechanisms to predict driver’s fatigue for the purpose of minimizing fatigue-related road accidents. The methodology, algorithms, results, and evaluation are provided. This research assumes significance as fatigue-based road accidents are considered a global problem, it costs many drivers and other civilians their lives as well as financial losses.

‘Improvement of Path Tracking Control System of Autonomous Vehicles.’

Summary

This research addresses the enhancement of the Path Tracking Controller (PTC) of Autonomous Vehicles (AVs) using the Model Predictive Control (MPC) framework. Different approaches are adopted to design more efficient PTCs based on improved design of cost function and vehicle model approximation. The outcomes show that the proposed method can significantly improve AV's path tracking performance.

‘Environmental and Human Toxicity Assessment of Phosphorus-based Nanomaterials.’

Summary

This thesis reports biosynthesis of novel phosphorus-based nanomaterials followed by their characterisation under pristine conditions and in different water types. It reports excellent fertilising effects of phosphorus-based nanomaterials on rice and tomato plants. These nanomaterials were found to be non-toxic in bacteria, microalgae, human cells, human blood, nematodes and zebrafish.

‘Phosphorous Ionic Liquids as Stabilisers for Graphene-family Nanoadditives in Lubricants.’

Summary

This project focused on understanding the aggregation mechanism of graphene-based nanoadditives in lubricants and how using oil-miscible ionic liquids may improve the stability using experimental and MD simulation techniques. While ionic liquid improved the stability of the lubricant, aggregation of flakes via either solvent mediated association, van der Waal forces, hydrogen bonding, or bridging via IL was observed.

National Anthem

Advance Australia Fair

Australians all let us rejoice,
For we are one and free;
We've golden soil and wealth for toil,
Our home is girt by sea;
Our land abounds in nature's gifts
of beauty rich and rare;
In history's page, let every stage
Advance Australia Fair!
In joyful strains then let us sing,
Advance Australia Fair!

Evacuation Assembly Points

Costa Hall, Geelong Waterfront Campus

Evacuation procedures

On the sounding of the alert tone:

Beep ... beep ...

- Stand by and wait for further instruction

On the sounding of the evac tone:

Woop ... Woop ... Evacuate Now

- Follow directions of fire warden
- evacuate all occupants
- proceed to the assembly area on instruction of the chief warden
- remain at the assembly area and report any missing persons or personal items.

Do not re-enter the building until the fire brigade declares it safe to do so.

疏散程序

当响起哔... 哔... 警报声时:

- 请准备就绪等候进一步指示

当响起呜... 呜... 撤离警报声时,
立即撤离:

- 遵从消防安全员指示
- 全体人员撤离
- 根据消防指挥指示前往集合点
- 停留在集合点, 报告缺失人员或个人物品

在消防人员宣布可安全进入建筑物之前,
不得进入。

निकासी प्रक्रियाएँ

चेतावनी की आवाज बीप... बीप... सुनाई देने पर:

- तैयार रहें और आगे के निर्देशों की प्रतीक्षा करें

निकासी की आवाज वूप... वूप... Evacuate Now सुनाई देने पर:

- फायर वार्डन के निर्देशों का पालन करें
- सभी मौजूद व्यक्तियों को बाहर निकालें
- मुख्य वार्डन के निर्देश पर सामूहिक स्थल की ओर जाएँ
- सामूहिक स्थल में खड़े रहें और किसी भी लापता व्यक्ति या निजी वस्तु के बारे में सूचित करें।

जब तक फायर ब्रिगेड भवन में प्रवेश करना सुरक्षित घोषित न करे, तब तक प्रवेश न करें।

THỦ TỤC DI TÀN

Khi nghe tiếng kêu báo động:

Bíp ... bíp ...

- Chuẩn bị sẵn sàng và đợi để được hướng dẫn thêm

Khi nghe tiếng hụ báo động di tản:

Woop ... woop ... Di tản ngay bây giờ

- Làm theo lời hướng dẫn của giám thị hỏa hoạn
- Di tản tất cả mọi người
- Đi đến nơi tập hợp theo lời hướng dẫn của giám thị trưởng
- Lưu lại tại nơi tập hợp và báo cáo bất kỳ người nào không có mặt hoặc đồ đạc cá nhân bị thất lạc.

Đừng trở vào tòa nhà cho đến khi đội cứu hỏa tuyên bố là an toàn để trở vào.

PROSEDUR EVAKUASI

Jika terdengar nada peringatan:

Bip ... Bip ...

- Berdiri dan tunggu petunjuk selanjutnya

Jika terdengar nada tanda evakuasi:

Wup ... wup ... Evakuasi Sekarang

- Ikuti arahan petugas pemadam kebakaran.
- Evakuasi semua yang ada di dalam ruangan.
- Pergi ke lokasi berkumpul sesuai perintah kepala tim pemadam kebakaran.
- Jangan beranjak dari lokasi berkumpul, dan laporkan jika ada orang atau barang pribadi yang tertinggal.

Jangan kembali ke dalam gedung sebelum tim pemadam kebakaran memastikan kondisi sudah aman.

إجراءات الإخلاء

عند سماع صوت جرس التنبيه:

بييب ... بييب ...

- استعد وانتظر مزيداً من التعليمات

عند سماع صوت إنذار الإخلاء:

وووب ... وووب ... الإخلاء الآن

- اتبع إرشادات المُختص بالحرائق
- إخلاء جميع الموجودين
- انتقل إلى منطقة التجمع وفقاً لتعليمات الموظف المسؤول عن الإخلاء
- البقاء في منطقة التجمع، والإبلاغ عن أي شخص مفقود أو أغراض شخصية مفقودة.

لا تدخل المبنى مرة أخرى حتى يعلن مسئول الإطفاء أن الأوضاع آمنة للقيام بذلك.
