Living in Melbourne

Melbourne

The city of Melbourne has a population of around four million. It is exciting, safe, cosmopolitan and culturally rich. One in four people in Melbourne was born overseas. There are more than one hundred ethnic groups, making Melbourne a very multicultural city to live in. We have great public transport, a large number of parks, beaches, public spaces, a thriving arts culture, and a unique blend of historical and modern architecture.

Weather and clothing

The weather in Melbourne is pleasant and mild with four distinct seasons: summer, autumn, winter and spring. Melbourne generally does not experience severe extremes of heat, humidity or cold; however, the weather can be very changeable and hard to predict. It is a good idea to wear layers of clothing and to carry a small umbrella or a waterproof jacket.

Water restrictions

Due to ongoing dry weather, water restrictions are sometimes introduced in Melbourne to help save our diminishing water resources.

Travelling to DUELI

Melbourne is a large city, with few people living in its centre. Many Melburnians travel up to sixty minutes to go to work or school. DUELI is located on the Melbourne Burwood Campus. For maps, please visit deakin.edu.au/locations. For information about travelling in Melbourne, please visit www.ptv.vic.gov.au.

Myki card

Tickets for public transport are called 'myki'. You can buy a myki card from www.ptv.vic.gov.au, train stations, some news agencies and the Deakin Burwood bookshop. You must touch on with your myki when you travel. If you do not have a valid myki while travelling, you may be fined up to $500. Ticket inspectors often check tickets while you are on public transport, in validated ticket areas of train stations, and at tram stops. Always have a valid myki.

Tourist information

For tourist information on Melbourne and Victoria go to the Victoria Visitor Information at Federation Square, near the Flinders Street Station and see www.visitvictoria.com.

Each request is assessed on a case-by-case basis, and must be supported by medical certificates or other relevant documentation and approved by the Department of Home Affairs.

Reporting and disclosure of information

DUELI must, by law, report to the Department of Home Affairs any changes to your enrolment as well as breaches of your student visa conditions relating to your attendance and/or academic progress.

DUELI may be obliged to share the information you provide with Australian government departments, such as the Department of Home Affairs and the Department of Education and Training. For instance, when asked, DUELI must give the Department of Home Affairs information about your current address and contact numbers, your enrolment status and your grades.

Tax File Number (TFN)

You need to provide your tax file number (TFN) to:

- your bank, when opening a bank account
- your employer, if/when applying for a part-time job.

It is not compulsory to have a tax file number but if you do not have one, any money or interest you earn in Australia will be taxed at a higher rate.

To apply, visit www.ato.gov.au.

You are required to maintain satisfactory course progress throughout your studies at DUELI. Speak to your teacher or a student advisor if you are worried about your studies.

Course progress and assessment

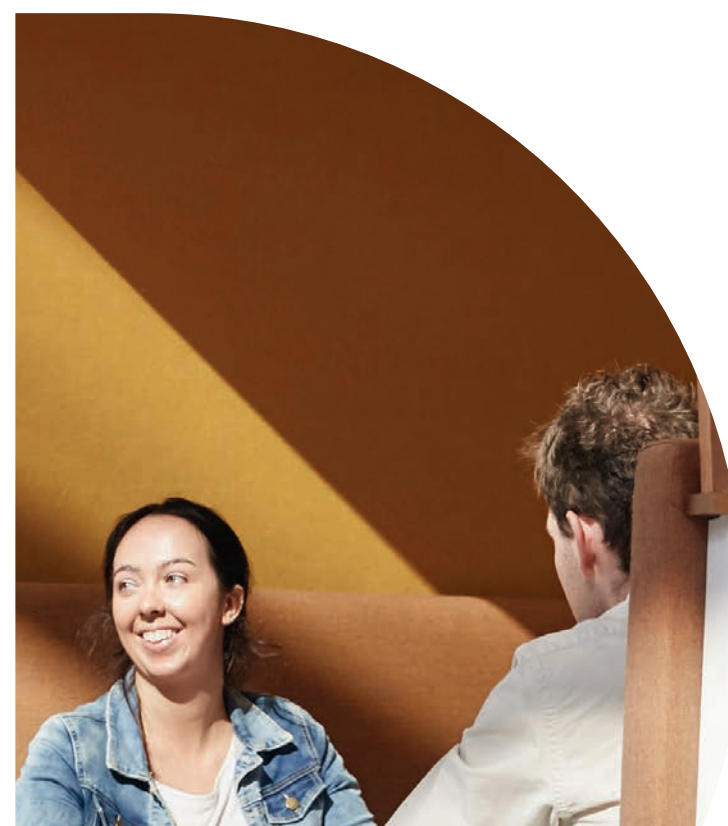

Your language skills are assessed throughout your course. At the beginning of each intake your teacher will show you where to find the assessment tasks for the teaching block. You will receive feedback and a statement with your results at the end of each 5 week teaching block. Re-printing certificates/statements of results will cost $30 per copy.

You must meet requirements for the course to progress to the next level. Students who have not met course requirements for 3 consecutive teaching blocks may not be able to extend their study.

Marks are final. All borderline marks are second marked by a coordinator. Students requesting a marks review must meet the grounds outlined in the Results Review procedure and complete the Results Review form.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism occurs when a student copies somebody else's work without acknowledging its author. Plagiarism leads to severe penalties in Australia, as it is an example of academic misconduct. Teachers at DUELI will explain how to properly reference your work in order to avoid plagiarism.
