This is a postgraduate degree for qualified teachers and educators looking to develop and enhance leadership capabilities. Delivered completely online, this offering will make it easy for you to fit in your study with your work and personal commitments.

Course essentials

Course Code: E725

Location: Online

Intakes: T1 (March), T2 (July)

Duration: 1 year full-time or part-time equivalent. Please note, PhD pathway is delivered via 2 years part-time study.

Course overview

Leaders in education are challenged to inspire new ways of thinking and learning in our communities. They foster growth and development of educational organisations in ways that are responsive to global and local issues. Studying a Master of Education (Leadership and Learning) is an opportunity to make a real difference in your organisation.

Your interest and passion for educational leadership will be explored through practical learning experiences, supported by teaching staff with extensive research and education expertise.

You will study eight units in total which can be completed in as little as 12 months if studied full-time, or 2 years if studied part-time, depending on your individual course plan.

The four core units for this course have been designed to build your knowledge and skills in relation to (i) educational context, policy and leadership in challenging times, (ii) evidence, analysis and evaluation for educational improvement, (iii) leadership for staff development and well-being, and (iv) leading and managing innovation, change and improvement.

You will be able to complete the full complement of eight units by selecting unit sequences chosen from additional combinations of research preparation units and a range of specialist elective studies.

The course provides a pathway to PhD if you are interested in furthering your research.
