GEORGE DABERLTON
Born Melbourne 1952.
Lives and works in Melbourne.

In 1990, George Daberlton visited a friend’s farm at Mountview where he was profoundly impressed by the age-old River Red Gum trees growing on the farm. His installed sculptures of the same trees represent a rather new aesthetic approach. The artist’s fascination for the river red gum has been a fruitful source of inspiration, both in its natural and in its conceptual aspects. His works have been exhibited in numerous solo and group exhibitions in Australia, Europe and the United States.

DOUGLAS NORMAN
Born 1956.
Lives and works in Melbourne.

Douglas Norman was a young teenager when he first became aware of the beauty of sculpture. He received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in 1982 from The College of Art, Melbourne. He is well known for his large-scale abstract metal sculptures, which are often made from recycled materials. His work has been featured in many exhibitions and collections around the world.
Welcome to the Sculpture Walk. The numbers are for you to identify the sculptures; you don’t have to follow the walk sequentially, just jump in at any point!

The sculptures form a part of Deakin University’s Art Collection. Be sure to stop at the Art Gallery to see more of the Collection or our latest exhibition.
