Acknowledgement of Country

Deakin University acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of all the unceded lands, skies and waterways on which Deakin students, staff and communities come together. As we learn and teach through virtually and physically constructed places across time, we pay our deep respect to the Ancestors and Elders of Wadawurrung Country, Eastern Maar Country and Wurundjeri Country, where our physical campuses are located. We also acknowledge the many First Nations from where students join us online and make vital contributions to our learning communities.

Your future in education and teaching

Get a world-class education

Deakin is ranked #3 in Australia and #13 globally for education and educational research by the U.S. News & World Report, Best Global Universities Subject Rankings 2025–2026, a publication that is regarded as a global authority in education rankings. So, when you choose Deakin, you can be confident you're securing a world-class education – and a bright future.

Learn from the best

We maintain close links with the education sector to ensure our courses are developed and reviewed with industry and professional input. You'll be taught by staff members with industry experience who are recognised as leaders and innovators in their fields. So, you can be confident that what you learn at Deakin will be relevant to your teaching career.

Berry Street Education Model

Deakin is the only university to embed the Berry Street Education Model into all of our initial teaching degrees. You'll graduate equipped with practical, trauma-informed strategies to support every learner. You'll know how to manage safe, healthier and more engaging learning environments and build positive classroom relationships to promote academic success – giving you and your employer confidence. All Deakin teaching students will graduate with a formal certificate from Berry Street – a highly regarded credential recognised by schools across Australia.

Get job-ready with our dedicated Professional Experience Program

Every Deakin teaching student's course experience is enriched by the Professional Experience Program. Working with more than 1400 schools and over 500 early childhood settings across Australia, a dedicated team will help you find the right placements based on your teaching areas, residential location and mode of transport.

In our undergraduate courses, we'll arrange at least 80 days of professional experience placements for you in schools or early childhood settings (60+ days for postgraduate courses) where you'll learn from experienced teachers. On campus, you'll have access to specialised teaching spaces to further prepare you for the classroom, including the state-of-the-art, immersive and interactive Nyaal learning precinct in Geelong. Here, you can experience different classroom environments virtually in a 360-degree-theatre.

Deakin also participates in the Victorian State Government supported Placements Plus program. Our extensive national network of alliance partners provide pre-service teachers with placement opportunities in local schools and centres, with some placements exclusive to Deakin students.

Your future in education and teaching

Join a booming industry

Employment in education and training is projected to grow by 13.4% or 156,000 new jobs by 2033, according to Australian Government employment projections.¹

Get ahead with Deakin; we'll individually tailor your work placement, allowing you to build your network within the community and industry.

- 10,600 new jobs for early childhood teachers.
- 13,900 new jobs for tertiary education teachers.
- 7,700 new jobs for primary school teachers.
- 5,800 new jobs for secondary school teachers.

Intercultural teaching experience

Gain an international perspective on teaching with our International Initial Teacher Discovery (IITD), a teaching practicum that develops a range of teaching and learning approaches in a range of exciting destinations. These locations can change year to year. Recent opportunities have included placements in Germany, Korea, Vietnam, Singapore, or Canada.

You can also broaden your understanding of intercultural education here in Australia. We have a strong commitment to Indigenous teacher education and run National Experience programs in Australia's Northern Territory.

Be rewarded for your hard work

A Deakin scholarship is more than just a financial boost. It is our chance to acknowledge your accomplishments and reward your hard work, setting you on the path to success at university. Our extensive scholarship program includes three key scholarships:

- Vice-Chancellor's Academic Excellence Scholarship
- Deakin Scholarship for Excellence
- Deakin Student Support Scholarship.

We also offer a range of donor and government-funded scholarships. Each is unique with differing criteria and eligibility, rewarding aspiring students from diverse backgrounds.

Find your future: explore scholarship opportunities

There are generous incentives and scholarships available to become a teacher. Refer to deakin.edu.au/teaching-scholarships for more information.

There are also Commonwealth Prac Payments available to assist eligible students with costs related to mandatory placements. Refer to deakin.edu.au/students/enrolment-and-fees/financial-assistance/commonwealth-prac-payment for more information.

'We co-design our teaching and professional learning programs in ways that are practical and responsive to the contemporary challenges facing educators, educational leaders and systems. This requires new and fresh thinking and the affordances of innovative digital technology.'

Professor Damian Blake
Head of School of Education

What is the Casper test?

Casper (Computer-based Assessment for Sampling Personal Characteristics) is an online, video scenario-based situational judgement test, assessing a number of non-academic attributes including communication, ethics, empathy, motivation and professionalism.

If you're applying for an initial teacher education course and the Casper test is a course requirement, you'll need to complete it to be considered for an offer. You will need to sit the Casper test if you are applying for any of the following courses:

- Bachelor of Education (Primary)
- Bachelor of Health and Physical Education
- Bachelor of Arts/Master of Teaching (Secondary)
- Bachelor of Science/Master of Teaching (Secondary)
- Master of Teaching (Primary)
- Master of Teaching (Secondary).

If you're enrolled in the Bachelor of Arts/Master of Teaching (Secondary) or Bachelor of Science/Master of Teaching (Secondary), you'll need to complete the Casper test in the final trimester of the undergraduate component of your combined degree.

Deakin covers your Casper test fee

If you're enrolled to start studies from 2026 in an initial teacher education degree, and the Casper test is an entry requirement of your course, we'll cover the test fee with a $55 payment to you. You do not need to apply for the payment. Deakin will identify and communicate with you at the point of admission.

For more information, dates and sample test content, visit deakin.edu.au/casper.

Skills to get you a job

At Deakin, every course is shaped by industry experts. You'll graduate with real-world expertise and practical skills, giving you a competitive edge in the workplace. Secure your future today at the #1 Victorian university for graduate employment² and course satisfaction.³

If you are inspired to teach young children, Deakin’s Bachelor of Early Childhood Education provides you with the opportunity to explore early childhood education curriculum theories and pedagogies, child development, health and wellbeing, diversity and inclusion and professional studies, as well as teaching and learning in discipline areas of literacy, mathematics, science and the arts.

Careers

Graduates are qualified to work in early childhood settings as early childhood teachers, educational leaders, coordinators or advisers. Graduates may also find employment opportunities in:

- consultancy
- NGOs
- policy
- research or community-based organisations.

Professional recognition

This program is approved by the Australian Children’s Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA) as an early childhood teaching qualification in Australia. Graduates of this course will be eligible to register with the Victorian Institute of Teaching (VIT). Graduates who are intending to apply for registration interstate may be required to provide further information. Applicants are advised to check the registration requirements in their state or territory carefully.

Professional experience

You’ll undertake a minimum of 80 days of professional placements and a five-day introductory experience in infant and toddler education and care settings through Deakin’s Professional Experience Program, gaining both practical knowledge and skills to teach children aged birth to five years.

After learning across a range of early childhood settings, you’ll graduate with the confidence and aptitude to meet the needs of the Australian early childhood education sector.

Berry Street Education Model

Deakin is the only university to embed the Berry Street Education Model across all of its initial teacher education courses. Students will upskill in our Trauma Informed Practice Module in their first year of study.

This module is a comprehensive toolkit designed by educators for educators, which introduces initial teacher education students to trauma-informed, strength-based strategies intended for daily implementation in any classroom setting.

With this module, our graduates confidently commence their teaching career equipped with practical skills that enable them to develop and manage safer, healthier, and more engaging learning environments and promote academic success. All Deakin teaching students will graduate with a formal certificate from Berry Street – a highly regarded credential recognised by schools across Australia.

Course structure

This 24-credit-point course consists of 24 core units, 80 days of supervised professional experience and a five-day introductory experience. Students must also complete the Academic Integrity and Respect at Deakin module, (0 credit points; compulsory) and Trauma Informed Practice (0 credit points; compulsory).

NIKERI Institute

Deakin is committed to helping students from all backgrounds and locations achieve their dreams of shaping the next generation. That's why the National Indigenous Knowledges, Education, Research and Innovation (NIKERI) Institute provides flexibly structured courses to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students from all across Australia.

Our fully accredited Bachelor of Education (Primary) and Bachelor of Early Childhood Education courses are offered through Community Based Delivery, where community teaches community in a supported environment through a mix of online learning and on-campus experiences.

Indigenous Studies

Deakin also prioritises Indigenous Knowledges and offers all students the chance to enrich their understandings of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples' ways of Valuing, Being, Knowing and Doing. Taken as an elective in any course, these units promote co-contributions to positive reconciliation efforts alongside Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples.

Build a solid foundation in primary curriculum and discover what it takes to teach and lead young people. Deakin’s accredited Bachelor of Education (Primary) equips you with the essential knowledge and skills required to guide children through their primary learning years. From mathematics to science, the arts to literacy, you’ll learn how to teach across a wide range of subjects and specialisations. Through our Professional Experience Program, you’ll put what you’ve been learning into practice.

Primary subject specialisation

Develop advanced skills and gain an edge for employment in a key area of the primary school curriculum. The following primary specialisations will be offered, subject to demand and availability:

- health and physical education
- English
- mathematics
- science
- humanities
- the arts.

Careers

Studying a Bachelor of Education (Primary) will equip you with the skills and knowledge for a successful career in education. Upon graduation, you’ll be ready to teach in primary schools within the private, independent or public education sectors.

We’re the only university in Australia to offer a three-year Bachelor of Education (Primary)⁶

Graduates may also find work in other fields, including community services, government agencies and not-for-profit organisations.

Professional recognition

This course is accredited by the Victorian Institute of Teaching (VIT) as a nationally accredited course and students are eligible to apply for registration with VIT upon graduation. If you intend to apply for registration in Victoria or interstate, you may be required to provide further information. Applicants are advised to carefully check the registration requirements in their state or territory.

Professional experience

This course includes 80 days of supervised professional experience placements in primary education settings, where you’ll learn from experienced teachers. As a result, you’ll graduate qualified to teach from foundation to Year 6, with the confidence and ability to demonstrate classroom readiness and make a difference to students’ learning.

You might also have the opportunity to undertake a professional experience placement in international or remote Northern Territory settings through our Global Education Program.

Berry Street Education Model

Deakin is the only university to embed the Berry Street Education Model across all of its initial teacher education courses. Students will upskill in our Trauma Informed Practice Module in their first year of study.

University can be a challenge, which is why we've designed a course that offers you a supported learning environment and guaranteed pathway into any Deakin undergraduate teaching course. This includes the Bachelor of Early Childhood Education or Bachelor of Health and Physical Education, or Bachelor of Education (Primary).

You'll learn the skills you need to be successful at university, including communication, digital literacy, critical thinking and teamwork. From day one, you will be a part of the Deakin community and campus atmosphere. You'll complete core units from the Bachelor of Education (Primary) earning the most credit if you choose to transition to that degree course.

Careers

Graduates will be on track to step into one of Deakin's undergraduate teaching degrees to become a fully registered teacher, provided they successfully complete the Casper test (not required for Bachelor of Early Childhood Education).

An associate degree equips you with the skills to succeed at both university and in your future career. Graduates find employment opportunities in a range of fields, including:

- education
- government departments
- health sector
- media
- private academies/agencies
- public service.

Course structure

This 16-credit-point course consists of 4 credit points of core foundation units and 12 credit points of core units. Students must also complete the Academic Integrity and Respect at Deakin module (0 credit points; compulsory).

Combine your passion for the arts and your desire to inspire the generations of tomorrow with a Bachelor of Arts/Master of Teaching (Secondary) at Deakin. Our school-based learning programs and professional learning placements ensure you're ready to teach today and into the future. Fast-track your studies and graduate with two versatile degrees, including a postgraduate teaching degree, in just four years. The 14 arts majors on offer, including history, media studies, performing arts and politics, complement your teaching expertise while diversifying your career options.

Professional recognition

This course is accredited by the Victorian Institute of Teaching (VIT) as a nationally accredited course and students are eligible to apply for registration with VIT upon graduation. If you intend to apply for registration in Victoria or interstate, you may be required to provide further information. Applicants are advised to carefully check the registration requirements in their state or territory.

Professional experience

This course includes 60 days of supervised professional experience placements in secondary schools, where you'll learn from experienced teachers. You might also have the opportunity to undertake a work placement in international or remote Northern Territory settings through our Global Education Program.

Careers

Teaching courses at Deakin lead to a profound and impactful career that positively influences the lives of young people. It's a rewarding career that offers creativity, flexibility and opportunity.

Graduates of the Bachelor of Arts/Master of Teaching (Secondary) are qualified to teach in secondary schools within Victoria, in the private, independent or public education sectors.

Your specialisations and advanced knowledge will also open doors to roles in community services, government agencies and not-for-profit organisations.

Majors and teaching methods

Alongside core education studies, you will complete two majors to support your learning towards your teaching methods in the Master of Teaching.

Berry Street Education Model

Deakin is the only university to embed the Berry Street Education Model across all of its initial teacher education courses. Students will upskill in our Trauma Informed Practice Module in their first year of study.

This module is a comprehensive toolkit designed by educators for educators, which introduces initial teacher education students to trauma-informed, strength-based strategies intended for daily implementation in any classroom setting.

With this module, our graduates confidently commence their teaching career equipped with practical skills that enable them to develop and manage safer, healthier, and more engaging learning environments and promote academic success. All Deakin teaching students will graduate with a formal certificate from Berry Street – a highly regarded credential recognised by schools across Australia.

'I have a love for both history and literature, and I want to pass on these passions to other people and help them learn to appreciate the subjects they cover. Teaching seemed a natural way for me to engage and connect with learners and provide support for those who may struggle to understand the topics.'

The Master of Teaching is a teaching qualification in early childhood, primary or secondary teaching. These courses offer extensive practical experience, preparing you for an in-demand career in education.

Professional recognition

These courses are approved by the Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA) as an early childhood teaching qualification in Australia, or accredited by the Victorian Institute of Teaching (VIT) as a nationally accredited course. Students are eligible to apply for registration with VIT upon graduation. If you intend to apply for registration in Victoria or interstate, you may be required to provide further information. Applicants are advised to carefully check the registration requirements in their state or territory.

Professional experience

Professional teaching experiences throughout your course ensure you have the practical experience you need to launch into your teaching career. Professional experience placements are undertaken in approved schools and early childhood settings (where appropriate) within Australia.

Careers

There is a strong demand for qualified teachers and starting salaries for graduates are high compared to the graduate average. The increased demand for teachers has also resulted in improvements in teaching conditions, resources and career advancement opportunities. As a graduate of this course, you may find employment as a teacher within the private, independent or public education sectors. Opportunities also exist in government agencies, community services or not-for-profit organisations.
